SIX DEAD IN BROOKLYN FIRE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 4.—Six women were burned to death early today when fire destroyed the four-story and basement house at No. 243 Hancock street, one of the most fashionable sections of Brooklyn.

The house was the home of Mrs. Casimir Tag, widow of Casimir Tag, who was president of the German Savings and German-American Bank of Brooklyn. It was one of the handsomest houses in the block.

The dead: Caroline Tag, 25, daughter of Mrs. Tag.

Helen Tag, 31, daughter of Mrs. Tag.

Henrietta Suresly, 68, cousin of Mrs. Tag.

Miss Jennie F. Steadman, 20, a trained nurse.

Annie Cain, 52, servant.

Lizzie Cain, 45, servant.

The fire broke out about 3 o'clock.

It was discovered by Miss Caroline Tag. She called up her brother, Dr. C. H. Tag, and then the fire department. It is believed that she tried to arouse the others who were in the house. It was the last seen of her. She was to have been married February 16.

When the firemen arrived the blaze, which started on the first floor was sweeping through the center of the house. Another alarm was turned in.

Policemen Friel and Gerlinger fought their way into the house. On the third floor they found Mrs. Tag and rescued her unconscious. Then the flames became so fierce that the policemen were forced to leave the burning house.

After a hard fight the firemen got the blaze under control. A search of the house revealed the bodies of the seven women. All were in bedrooms on the second and third floors and were in such a condition that it was difficult to identify them.

Miss Steadman had been in the Tag home only one day. She had been engaged only yesterday to nurse one of the family who was ill. She was sleeping on the third floor.

The fire was caused by defective insulation.

Casimir Tag died September 21, 1913. He was 60 years old, and left an estate valued at $1,500,000.

Five Dead in Fire at Atlantic City

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 4.—Five persons are known to have been killed by a fire that broke out in the Overbrook Hotel, destroyed that building and several others, and caused damage, estimated at $600,000 early today. Eleven guests of the hotel were unaccounted for four hours after the fire was discovered, and it was feared they had been killed.

Thirty persons were injured, many of them seriously.

That the death list was not much larger was due to the work of Miss Katharine Stokes, 22 years old, operator for the Bell Telephone Co., who saw the fire from her office across the street from the Overbrook Hotel. At that time practically the entire first floor was in flames.

Miss Stokes flashed the alarm to every fire station in the city, and apparatus was quickly on the scene, but the firemen had to confine their efforts to saving lives and preventing spread of the flames. They saw that it would be impossible to save the hotel.

The firemen were handicapped by severe gale and were unable to prevent the flames from spreading. Within a few moments twenty frame houses in the vicinity of the hotel, which was an old landmark at Mount Vernon and Pacific avenues, had caught fire and two were quickly destroyed.

The Episcopal Church of the Ascension, worshipping place of the fashionable guests who came here during the summer, stood next to the Overbrook. For a time it was hoped that the church could be saved, but it finally caught fire from the intense heat from the burning hotel and was also destroyed.

Firemen suffered intensely from the cold as they fought the fire. Many were covered with ice and had to be replaced by other men.

For some time it was feared that the entire city would be destroyed, and all the inhabitants were notified.

to be on watch for sparks carried by the gale. Despite the precautions taken, houses three blocks away from the hotel were set on fire.

The fire originated in the kitchen of the Overbrook about 4 o'clock, but was not seen by Miss Stokes until half an hour later. In the meantime the engineer of the hotel had discovered the flames and attempted to put them out unaided. His clothing caught fire and he was burned to death.

Richard Mott, manager of the hotel, was seriously injured. He later notified the police that his aged parents were missing.

Paul Hendricks, a guest at the Overbrook, did heroic work in rescuing others.

Most of those hurt were hurt in jumping from the windows of the hotel. Those listed by the police as most seriously hurt were John McCoy, West Hoboken, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Andrews, West Philadelphia, and George Banker, a Philadelphia architect.

extension ladders which the firemen raised to the windows.

Conflicting reports were circulated as to the fate of Chief Liberal Whip Pardee, who was in his seat in commons when an excited messenger dashed into the chamber shouting: "Fire! Fire! Run for your lives!"

Mr. Pardee, like many others in the chamber, did not recognize the full extent of the danger and was slow in attempting to make his escape.

Many of the legislators, after making their way out of the building, gave such aid as they could to the firemen. Some of these paid for their devotion with serious injuries.

Dr. Michael Clark, a parliament member from Red Deer, was among the volunteers injured. He was badly burned about the face and hands.

That the fire followed an explosion is practically certain. Col. George Bradburn, a member of parliament from Manitoba; Medric Marlin, the mayor of Montreal, and Constable Helmer, all of whom were standing near the door of the reading room, declare that there was a loud detonation a moment before smoke and flames began pouring through the reading room doors.

However, these men saw no strangers enter or leave the room and were unable to furnish the government police with any clues.

That the flames spread so quickly and ate their way so thoroughly is a big surprise to Canadian officials, for the building was built of stone and was made as nearly fireproof as possible.

The great number of papers, books, chairs and desks in the reading room made ready fuel for the blaze at the outbreak and it quickly spread into commons chamber. By 1:30 o'clock the great, imposing tower had been undermined and it fell with a furious crash. Flames and sparks leaped high into the air lighting up the city for miles. The senate by time was a seething cauldron and the fire was eating its way along the corridors and snapping at the partitions of the library.

It was said by General Sir Sam Hughes that it would be impossible to issue an official list of the dead until the ruins cooled.

Mme. Sevigny, wife of the speaker, is under the doctor's care as a result of the harrowing experience through which she passed. She and a party of guests were in the speakers suite when the fire broke out. The crush of struggling fugitives and the smoke which rolled through the corridors in choking billows, made it impossible for them to escape except through the windows.

Firemen below, seeing faces at the window above them kept shouting: "Don't jump till the fire nets are rigged up."

As quickly as possible the nets were spread and the word was given to leap into them.

Mme. Sevigny picked up one of her children and dropped it from the window. It landed in the net unhurt. Then she dropped her second child and it too was saved. Mme. Sevigny followed, jumping feet first into the net. So great was the shock which she had suffered that she was on the verge of collapse and could not arise.

Another guest of Mme. Sevigny saved herself in the same way.

There were panicky scenes in the corridor of both the commons chamber and the senate.

The fire as the most spectacular that Ottawa has seen for a generation. As the fire gained headway and the flames rolled upward casting a lurid glow over the snow-covered city the whole populace surged toward the scene of the conflagration and it was all the police and soldiers could do to hold the excited men and women at bay so the firemen could have free play.

For a time it was feared that the flames could spread to other government buildings and squads of firemen were held in readiness to attack any fire which might break out elsewhere.

The expedient of bringing dynamite to the scene was even considered.

Parliament building formed the center of a group of government buildings and was the most imposing structure in Canada. Its cornerstone was laid by the then Prince of Wales who later became King Edward VII.

The building stood upon a rocky bluff overlooking the Ottawa river and the dominating position of the conflagration gave it an imposing grandeur. The building proper and its appendages cost more than $5,000,000. The architecture was of the Gothic style and the building afforded one of the most elaborate specimens of this architecture in North America. Parliament building was constructed of cream colored sandstone to which time had lent a richer hue. The arches over the doors and windows were of red sandstone from Potsdam and the dressings were of Ohio freestone.

The building was surrounded by beautiful lawns upon which the firemen battled to save the structure. The central edifice—that occupied by the houses of parliament—had a fine tower 220 feet high.

$100,000 Block Destroyed.

Troy, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Two five-story structures in the business section of Troy were destroyed by fire early today. The loss was $100,000.

Fire Near Utica.

Utica, Feb. 4.—Flames devastated a considerable portion of Camden, a few miles west of here, early today, the loss in the village reaching $200,000.

The fire started about 4 a. m. in the Cornish block, due to an overheated bakery. Before the firemen could reach the scene the Cornish block was a mass of flames which quickly communicated to adjoining structures. Lack of sufficient water pressure and the extreme cold severely handicapped the firemen. Assistance was summoned from Rome and the fire was brought under control soon after 8 o'clock. In addition to the Cornish block the following buildings were destroyed: Wood's variety store block, opera house block, the Stone building and the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches.

Missing Men Accounted For.

CLARENCE DRANK AND GOT TOO GAY

Damsel Slapped His Face and Then Clarence Hugged Her Some More—Athlete Pays $10 For His Amusement.

Clarence Clemens, a noted athletic star of historic old Kingston Academy and one of the best known negro athletes along the Hudson river, was arrested on Thursday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Miss Clara Brown, also colored, of No. 140 Flatbush avenue, who complained that the other night Clemens had pulled her into a doorway on Broadway near Downs street and had placed his arm around her. This morning Clemens was arraigned before Recorder Lang and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 or ten days in jail.

According to Miss Brown's story she and three other young women were walking up Broadway from church when Clarence appeared on the scene and grasping hold of her pulled her into the doorway where he put his arm around her. She resented his familiarity and slapped his face and then she said that Clarence slapped her face and hugged her up.

A policeman on the beat noticed the disturbance and started for the scene but was seen first by Clarence, who ran away. As Clarence was one of the fastest sprinters that ever attended old K. A. he had no difficulty in making his escape.

Clarence confessed this morning that he had taken a few drinks which accounted for his action.

Recorder Lang in imposing sentence said that the streets of the city must be kept safe for any woman and he would not countenance having them insulted. He said this was the first case that had been called to his attention since he had assumed office, and he would deal heavily with any man brought before him who was found guilty of insulting a woman.

The charge made against Clemens by Miss Brown was that of disorderly conduct.

GREAT PROPHET AND SACHEM ARE COMING

Minnewaska Tribe, No. 130, Improved Order of Red Men, held a roving big meeting in their rooms, No. 635 Broadway, Thursday night when several important matters came up before the tribe. The first was the big union meeting which is to be held next Thursday evening in their rooms. Sachem Leo F. Grogan read a letter from the great sachem of the state of New York, Charles H. Smith, in which he assured the local sachem that the great prophet of New York state, William D. Cheney, and himself, would be at Kingston to participate in the union meeting.

Deputy Great Sachem of Ulster County Charles H. Edwards said that he had made all the final arrangements with the various tribes of Red Men throughout Ulster county and he assured the sachem and brothers of Minnewaska Tribe that there would be a delegation of Red Men from Saugerties, Esopus, St. Remy and Ellenville. These tribes in Ulster county were all eager to attend the meeting and get some helpful points about the order from the great sachem and great prophet.

The next matter under discussion was the big class of palefaces who are to be rounded up by a committee, the chairman of which is Everett Blanshan. The members of the committee appointed by the sachem were the following: Thomas H. Edmonston, Louis F. Locke, Isaac Herb, Charles Herb, Daniel Herb, Frank Greene, Albert W. Lewis, John L. O'Shea, Oliver Van Steenburgh, Charles McClung, Marvin Styles, Joseph Dolson, Andrew Bunt, Merritt Haines, Frank L. Post and Sachem Leo F. Grogan.

The sachem instructed Chief of Records John L. O'Shea to communicate with the great sachem in regard to a dispensation for a class of 25 palefaces, the class to be received into the order on some date the latter part of the month. The brothers appointed on the committee promised that they would round up every paleface in the forest and capture them within the next three weeks and make Red Men of them all.

Following the business session speeches were made by District Deputy Great Sachem Edwards and a number of brothers of Minnewaska Tribe, after which the brothers departed, voting the evening well spent. The interest of all Red Men throughout the county is now centered in the coming union meeting of the tribes in this vicinity.

FIVE DELEGATIONS ATTEND REVIVAL

Varied Interests Represented and a Very Large General Attendance Show That Interest in the Campaign For Souls is Increasing. (Official Report.)

A large and enthusiastic congregation, about two thousand people, again welcomed Grant Tullar, at the Thursday evening meeting of the union evangelistic services held at the St. James M. E. Church. Five delegations were present; consisting of seventy members of the Eastern Star; sixteen men from the Y. M. C. A.; ten representatives of the Prudential Life Insurance Company; fifty earnest Christians from the Wurts Street Baptist Church; and forty-five students from Spencer's Business School. These delegations show that the different business houses, orders, lodges, schools and churches uphold and speak of the necessity of Christian attitude and action, as well as the immense amount of good derived from the union meetings.

Among the noteworthy events of the evening service, we had a solo, full of pity and tenderness, "The Broken Heart." Before Mr. Merideth sang this song he told of the unique manner in which he happened to get it while in England.

The audience again had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, who pictured before the appreciative audience the infinite magnitude of God's tenderness.

"God's love was taken from: Psalm 103, verse 13. 'Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.' Matthew 9th chapter, 36 verse, 'When He saw the multitudes he was moved with compassion on them.' Ephesians, 4th chapter, 32nd verse, 'Be ye kind one to another and tender hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.' Dr. Seeley said in part:

"God is our father, waiting alikely on man and beast, covering us with his wings, befriending us like a mother, with his big heart bursting with pity and love. God is too big to be defied, too wonderful, too glorious for the human mind to conceive. God broke His heart for mankind. Some say that pity lies at the heart of all religion. Surely 'If man cannot love man, whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen.' Yet we go our way, heedless of the multitudes that pass our way. God was the only one who ever felt the pathos in human life. We call Him 'Master,' and we know very little of His spirit.

"Now we have placed in the Hall of Fame great men, sculptors, inventors, statesmen, but we do not put great hearts in such halls of fame. Christianity simply refuses to give man his place in life. Christian salvation is the counselor of the heart. The heart is without the heart is like a picture without color or beauty. No man was a complete man until there was some love that thrilled him through and through. No man is never great until his tender heart can be touched and taught forgiveness. God's message is always tender. Jesus' message of love is full of tears. Oh! my sinning friends will you yet come unto Him that you may have life, for although you might be crippled with doubt and despair, yet Jesus can save to the uttermost whoever comes to Him."

After a short prayer, Mr. Tullar arose and said, "While God's tenderness is clinging to our hearts, while the love is ringing in our consciences, friends make an earnest appeal to God to give you power to 'surrender.' One of the best sermons that I ever heard preached, was given by this business man, sitting right here below me. He was not paid to say what he did, while speaking in behalf of his delegation of students. No. But he said, 'That among business men, Christian character counts.' And I say it will never discount. It is always taken at par value or above. You do not have to sell it at an auction. It is always in great demand."

There was a morning, Messrs. Tullar and Merideth were greeted with an enthusiastic assembly of students at the high school, and their energetic applause showed that they appreciate Mr. Tullar's advice on "being sweet."

Sunday afternoon three different meetings will be held, first, a mass meeting for men at 3:30 at the Kingston Opera House, at which free admission will be by ticket. Tickets may be secured at the service to night, or outside of the opera house. Mr. Tullar will speak on "Soul Poison." Second, a meeting for women and girls, at the St. James M. E. Church, at 6 o'clock. Mr. E. Church, at 6 o'clock. Mr. A. K. Fuller to speak. Third, a meeting of young people, under the auspices of the evangelistic movement. To be held in the First Reformed Church at four o'clock, under the leadership of Dr. Leeper and Dr. Baragwanath.

Sunday evening, the usual union mass meeting in St. James's M. E. Church.

This evening at the St. James M. E. Church, the union evangelistic meeting, seven-thirty.

The house was the home of Mrs. Casimir Tag, widow of Casimir Tag, who was president of the German Savings and Loan-American Bank of Brooklyn. It was one of the handsomest houses in the block.
The dead:

FIRE DESTROYS CANADA'S $7,000,000 PARLIAMENT HOUSE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 4.—Fire believed by the Canadian authorities to have been set by a German agent; destroyed the historic Canadian parliament building early today causing the loss of five lives and entailing a monetary loss estimated at $7,000,000.
After commons chamber and the senate had been burned the firemen concentrated their efforts on saving the parliamentary library and this was the only section of the building which escaped destruction. The firemen had a terrific fight and at 4 o'clock it looked as though the library was doomed, but the fire fighters were finally victorious.
However, books and valuable documents had been carried from the library by members of the 77th regiment as a precautionary measure.
Help was called from Montreal but the combined efforts of the Ottawa and Montreal firemen could not stay the headway of the flames.
Two of the missing are Mme. Morin of Beauce, and Mme. Bray of Montreal, who were guests of the wife of Speaker Seigney.
Several men were reported to have been killed when one of the stone walls of the building collapsed.
William S. Loggie, a member of parliament from New Brunswick, was said to be missing.
Many persons were injured and were rushed to various hospitals.
There were many narrow escapes as the fire spread so rapidly that some of the persons in the building were trapped and had to fight their way through blinding fumes.
Minister of Agriculture Burrell was overcome as he was making his way through the thickest of the smoke and fell unconscious but was dragged to safety.
The Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, rushed to the scene in an automobile and insisted on helping the firemen.
Premier Borden announced that parliament would continue in session despite the loss of the building. The members were notified to be ready to assemble at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Russell Theatre or the government offices of the board of railway commissioners.
Among the works of value destroyed were paintings presented to parliament by Queen Victoria and King Edward.
General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia for Canada, assisted in the direction of the fire fighting forces. He called out the 77th Regiment, which is in training here, and the men were set at work rescuing trapped persons in the building, carrying out books and documents and assisting the firemen in other ways.
In the meantime the minister of militia notified the military authorities all along the border to watch for persons trying to leave the country surreptitiously.
A number of newspaper correspondents were caught in the press gallery by the rush of flames and saved themselves by climbing down

FIVE DEAD IN FIRE AT ATLANTIC CITY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 4.—Five persons are known to have been killed by a fire that broke out in the Overbrook Hotel, destroyed that building and several others, and caused damage, estimated at $600,000 early today. Eleven guests of the hotel were unaccounted for four hours after the fire was discovered, and it was feared they had been killed.
Thirty persons were injured, many of them seriously.
That the death list was not much larger was due to the work of Miss Katharine Stokes, 22 years old, operator for the Bell Telephone Co., who saw the fire from her office across the street from the Overbrook Hotel. At that time practically the entire first floor was in flames.
Miss Stokes flashed the alarm to every fire station in the city, and apparatus was quickly on the scene, but the firemen had to confine their efforts to saving lives and preventing a spread of the flames. They saw that it would be impossible to save the hotel.
The firemen were handicapped by severe gale and were unable to prevent the flames from spreading. Within a few moments twenty frame houses in the vicinity of the hotel, which was an old landmark at Mount Vernon and Pacific avenues, had caught fire and two were quickly destroyed.
The Episcopal Church of the Ascension, worshipping place of the fashionable guests who came here during the summer, stood next to the Overbrook. For a time it was hoped that the church could be saved, but it finally caught fire from the intense heat from the burning hotel and was also destroyed.
Firemen suffered intensely from the cold as they fought the fire. Many were covered with ice and had to be replaced by other men.
For some time it was feared that the entire city would be destroyed, and all the inhabitants were notified extension ladders which the firemen raised to the windows.

"IN UNION IS STRENGTH"—PERHAPS THAT IS WHY THEY WIN.

Conflicting reports were circulated as to the fate of Chief Liberal Whip Pardee, who was in his seat in commons when an excited messenger dashed into the chamber shouting: "Fire! Fire! Run for your lives!"
Mr. Pardee, like many others in the chamber, did not recognize the full extent of the danger and was slow in attempting to make his escape.
Many of the legislators, after making their way out of the building, gave such aid as they could to the firemen. Some of these paid for their devotion with serious injuries.
Dr. Michael Clark, a parliament member from Red Deer, was among the volunteers injured. He was badly burned about the face and hands.
That the fire followed an explosion is practically certain. Col. George Bradburn, a member of parliament from Manitoba; Medrie Marlin, the mayor of Montreal, and Constable Helmer, all of whom were standing near the door of the reading room, declare that there was a loud detonation a moment before smoke and flames began pouring through the reading room doors.
However, these men saw no strangers enter or leave the room and were unable to furnish the government police with any clues.
But the flames spread so quickly and ate their way so thoroughly it is a big surprise to Canadian officials, for the building was built of stone and was made as nearly fireproof as possible.
The great number of papers, books, chairs and desks in the reading room made ready fuel for the blaze at the outbreak and it quickly spread into commons chamber. By 1:30 o'clock the great, imposing tower had been undermined and it fell with a furious crash. Flames and sparks leaped high into the air lighting up the city for miles. The lightning by time was a seething cauldron and the fire was eating its way along the corridors and snapping at the partitions of the library.
It was said by General Sir Sam Hughes that it would be impossible to issue an official list of the dead until the ruins cooled.
Mme. Seigney, wife of the speaker, is under the doctor's care as a result of the harrowing experience through which she passed. She and a party of guests were in the speakers suite when the fire broke out. The crush of struggling fugitives and the smoke which rolled through the corridors in choking billows, made it impossible for them to escape except through the windows.
Firemen below, seeing faces at the window above, then kept shouting: "Don't jump till the fire nets are rigged up."
As quickly as possible the nets were spread and the word was given to leap into them.
Mme. Seigney picked up one of her children and dropped it from the window. It landed in the net unhurt. Then she dropped her second child and it too was saved. Mme. Seigney followed, jumping feet first into the net. So great was the shock which she had suffered that she was on the verge of collapse and could not arise.
Another guest of Mme. Seigney saved herself in the same way.
There were panicky scenes in the corridor of both the commons chamber and the senate.
The fire as the most spectacular that Ottawa has seen for a generation. As the fire gained headway and the flames rolled upward casting a lurid glow over the snow-covered city the whole populace surged toward the scene of the conflagration and it was all the police and soldiers could do to hold the excited men and women at bay so the firemen could have free play.
For a time it was feared that the flames could spread to other government buildings and squads of firemen were held in readiness to attack any fire which might break out elsewhere.
The expedient of bringing dynamite to the scene was even considered.
Parliament building formed the center of a group of government buildings and was the most imposing structure in Canada. Its cornerstone was laid by the then Prince of Wales who later became King Edward VII.
The building stood upon a rocky bluff overlooking the Ottawa river and the dominating position of the conflagration gave it an imposing grandeur. The building proper and its appendages cost more than $5,000,000. The architecture was of the Gothic style and the building afforded one of the most elaborate specimens of this architecture in North America. Parliament building was constructed of cream colored sandstone to which time had lent a richer hue. The arches over the doors and windows were of red sandstone from Potsdam and the dressings were of Ohio freestone.

The building was surrounded by beautiful lawns upon which the firemen battled to save the structure. The central edifice—that occupied by the houses of parliament—had a fine tower 220 feet high.

Troy Has $100,000 Fire.
Troy, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Two five-story structures in the business section of Troy were destroyed by fire early today. The loss was $100,000.
Fire Near Utica.
Utica, Feb. 4.—Flames devastated a considerable portion of Camden, a few miles west of here, early today, the loss in the village reaching $200,000.
The fire started about 4 a. m. in the Cornish block, due to an overheated bakery. Before the firemen could reach the scene the Cornish block was a mass of flames which quickly communicated to adjoining structures. Lack of sufficient water pressure and the extreme cold severely handicapped the firemen. Assistance was summoned from Rome and the fire was brought under control soon after 8 o'clock. In addition to the Cornish block the following buildings were destroyed: Wood's variety store block, opera house block, the Stone building and the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches.
Missing Men Accounted For.

Cosmopolitan Hotel Reopened.
Reopening of the Cosmopolitan Hotel was an event of interest in the downtown section of New York this week. The famous old hotel, closed for two years, has been renovated throughout and will doubtless fill a demand for a complete hotel downtown, where the march of business has eliminated the historic Astor House and Smith and McNeill's long-established hotel.

CLARENCE DRANK AND GOT TOO GAY

Damsel Slapped His Face and Then
Clarence Hugged Her Some More—
Athlete Pays $10 For His Amusement.

Clarence Clemens, a noted athletic star of historic old Kingston Academy and one of the best known negro athletes along the Hudson river, was arrested on Thursday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Miss Clara Brown, also colored, of No. 140 Flatbush avenue, who complained that the other night Clemens had pulled her into a doorway on Broadway near Downs street and had placed his arm around her. This morning Clemens was arraigned before Recorder Lang and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 or ten days in jail.
According to Miss Brown's story she and three other young women were walking on Broadway near the church when Clarence appeared on the scene and grasping hold of her pulled her into the doorway where he put his arm around her. She resisted his familiarity and slapped his face and then she said that Clarence slapped her face and hugged her up.
A policeman on the beat noticed the disturbance and started for the scene but was seen first by Clarence, who ran away. As Clarence was one of the fastest sprinters that ever attended old K. A. he had no difficulty in making his escape.
Clarence confessed this morning that he had taken a few drinks which accounted for his action.
Recorder Lang in imposing sentence said that the streets of the city must be kept safe for any woman and he would not countenance having them insulted. He said this was the first case that had been called to his attention since he had assumed office, and he would deal heavily with any man brought before him who was found guilty of insulting a woman.
The charge made against Clemens by Miss Brown was that of disorderly conduct.

INSPECTOR HARGEN DROWNED IN GULF

Widow Received Word This Morning of Storm Fatality Off Florida Coast Sunday—Inspected Kingston Lighthouse Work.

Washed overboard from the schooner Ida May during a storm off the west coast of Florida, light-house inspector Stanley Hargen was drowned on January 30 in the Gulf of Mexico. He was 27 years old. A telegram received this morning from the captain of the schooner carried the sad intelligence to the young widow, Mrs. Marie Hargen, who resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myers, 24 Henry street, Kingston. Inspector Hargen was employed on the Kingston Lighthouse work and is well known here.

The message was signed by Captain James and said: "Am sorry to inform you of death of Stanley Hargen, who was washed off deck January 30 during storm. Further particulars mailed. Captain James."

She told a reporter that Mr. Hargen had been employed in the light-house inspection service on the Florida coast since last May, when he left Kingston. He traveled from Palm Beach to Tampa in his work and it was on one of his regular trips that he was washed off the deck of the tender.

Inspector Hargen, during his year's work in the lighthouse construction here, lived at the Mansion House and had a large circle of friends. He came to Kingston two years ago this month from Brooklyn where he was born and where he entered the government service three years ago. Besides his widow, he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hargen, of Key West, Fla.

GREAT PROPHET AND SACHEM ARE COMING

Minnewaska Tribe, No. 130, improved Order of Red Men, held a roving big meeting in their rooms, 600 Broadway, Thursday night when several important matters came up before the tribe. The first was the big union meeting which is to be held next Thursday evening in their rooms. Sachem Leo F. Grogan read a letter from the great sachem of the state of New York, Charles H. Smith, in which he assured the local sachem that the great prophet of New York state, William D. Cheney, and himself, would be at Kingston to participate in the union meeting.
Deputy Great Sachem of Ulster County Charles H. Edwards said that he had made all the final arrangements with the various tribes of Red Men throughout Ulster county and he assured the sachem and brothers of Minnewaska Tribe that there would be a delegation of Red Men from Saugerties, Esopus, St. Remy and Ellenville. These tribes in Ulster county were all eager to attend the meeting and get some helpful points about the order from the great sachem and great prophet.
The next matter under discussion was the big class of palefaces who are to be rounded up by a committee, the chairman of which is Everett Blanshan. The members of the committee appointed by the sachem were the following: Thomas H. Edmonston, Louis P. Locke, Isaac Herb, Charles Herb, Daniel Herb, Frank Greene, Albert W. Lewis, John L. O'Shea, Oliver Van Steenburgh, Charles McClung, Marvin Styles, Joseph Dolson, Andrew Buntton, Merritt Haines, Frank L. Post and Sachem Leo F. Grogan.
The sachem instructed Chief of Records John L. O'Shea to communicate with the great sachem in regard to a dispensation for a class of 25 palefaces, the class to be received into the order on some date the latter part of the month. The brothers appointed on the committee promised that they would run down every paleface in the forest and capture them within the next three weeks and make Red Men of them all.

Following the business session speeches were made by District Deputy Great Sachem Edwards and a number of brothers of Minnewaska Tribe, after which the brothers departed, voting the evening well spent. The interest of all Red Men throughout the county is now centered in the coming union meeting of the tribes in this vicinity.

Sunday afternoon three different meetings will be held, first a mass meeting for men at 3:30 at the Kingston Opera House, at which free admission will be by ticket. Tickets may be secured at the service to night, or outside of the opera house. Mr. Tullar will speak on "Soul Poison." Second, a meeting for women and girls, at the St. James M. E. Church at three o'clock. Dr. A. K. Fuller to speak. Third, a meeting of young people, under the auspices of the evangelistic movement. To be held in the First Reformed Church at four o'clock, under the leadership of Dr. Leeper and Dr. Baragwanath.

Sunday evening, the usual union mass meeting in St. James M. E. Church. This evening at the St. James M. E. Church, the union evangelistic meeting, seven-thirty.

Eight persons have been indicted at White Plains in connection with the murder of Gregorio George, who was found with his throat cut on the night of January 15th.

FIVE DELEGATIONS ATTEND REVIVAL

Varied Interests Represented and a Very Large General Attendance Show That Interest in the Campaign For Souls is Increasing.

(Official Report.)
A large and enthusiastic congregation, about two thousand people, again welcomed Grant Tullar, at the Thursday evening meeting of the union evangelistic services held at the St. James M. E. Church. Five delegations were present; consisting of seventy members of the Eastern Star; sixteen men from the Y. M. C. A.; ten representatives of the Prudential Life Insurance Company; fifty earnest Christians from the Wurts Street Baptist Church; and forty-five students from Spencer's Business School. These delegations show that the different business houses, orders, lodges, schools and churches uphold and speak of the necessity of Christian action and action, as well as the immense amount of good derived from the union meetings.

Among the noteworthy events of the evening service, we had a solo, full of pity and tenderness, "The Broken Heart." Before Mr. Merideth sang this song he told of the unique manner in which he happened to get it while in England.

The audience again had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, who pictured before the appreciative audience the infinite magnitude of God's tenderness.

His text was taken from: Psalm 103, verse 13, "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him." Matthew 9th chapter, 38 verse, "When He saw the multitudes he was moved with compassion on them." Ephesians 4th chapter, 32nd verse, "Be ye kind one to another and tender hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you." Dr. Seeley said in part:

"God is our father, waiting alike on man and beast, covering us with his wings, befriending us like a mother, with his big heart bursting with pity and love. God is too big to be defied, too wondrous, too glorious for the human mind to comprehend. God is the Father of the kind. Some say that pity lies at the heart of all religion. Surely 'If man cannot love man, whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen.' Yet we go our way heedless of the multitudes that pass our way. God was the only one who ever felt the pathos in human life. We call Him 'Master,' and we know very little of His spirit."

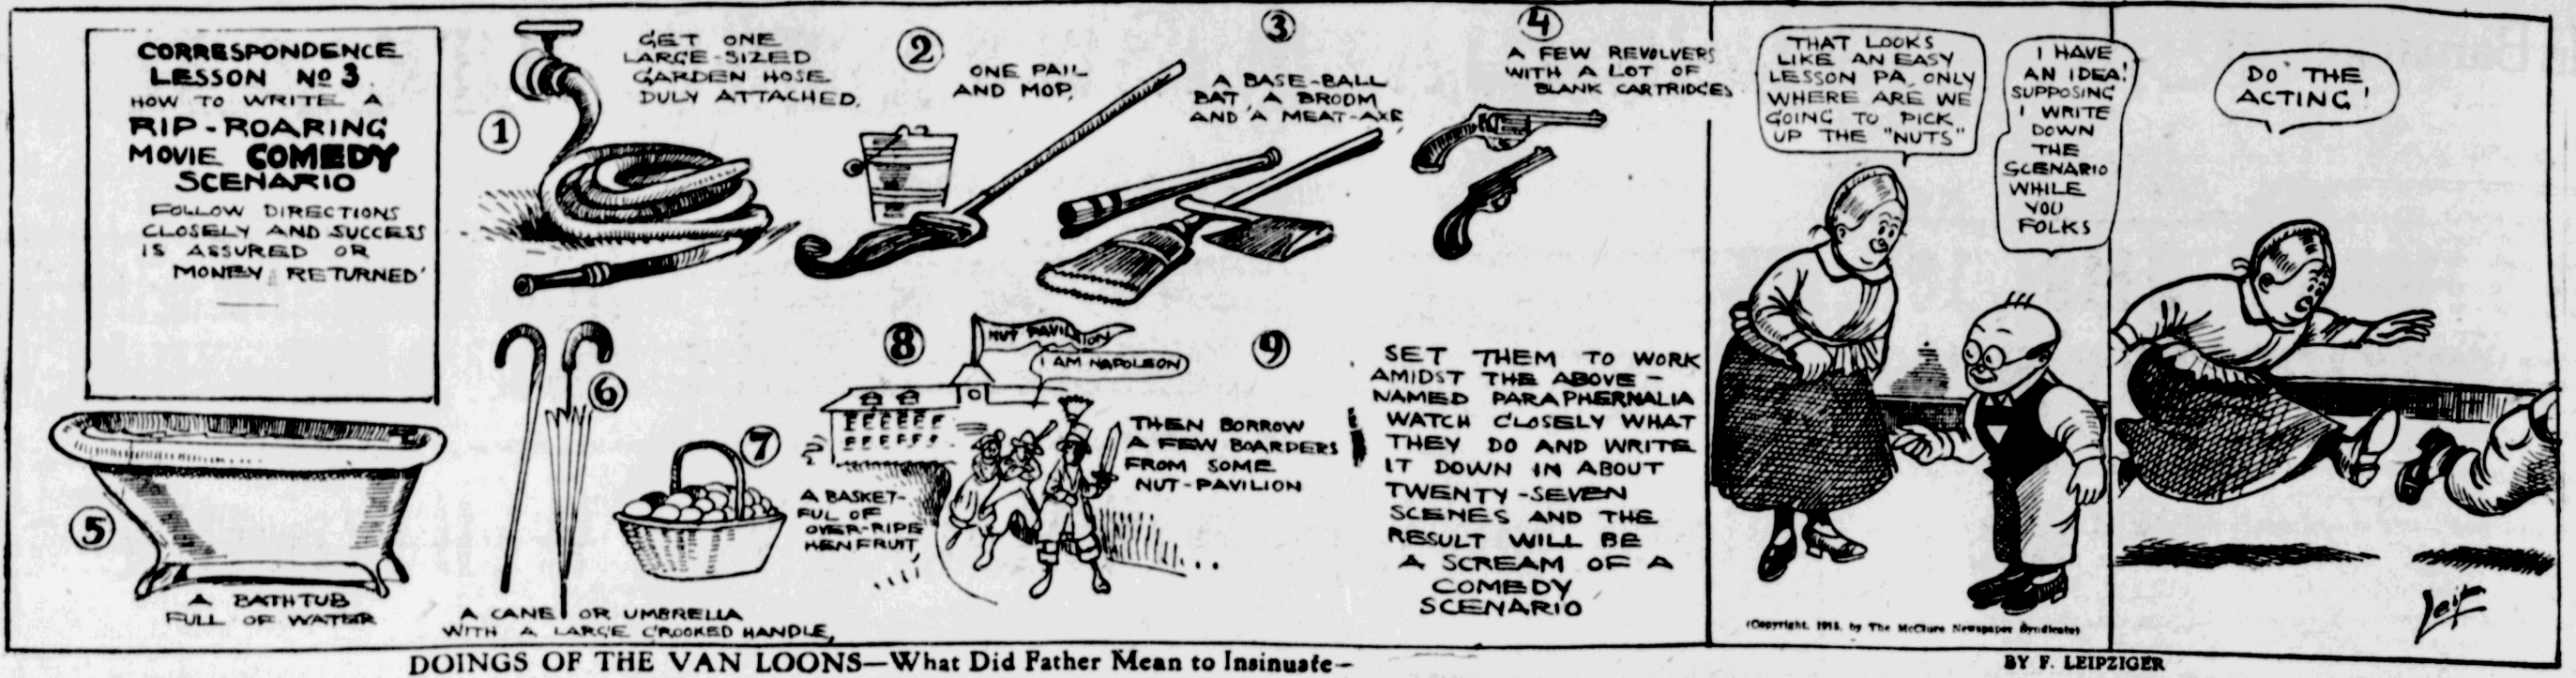

"Now we have placed in the Hall of Fame great men, sculptors, inventors, statesmen, but we do not put great hearts in such halls of fame. Christianity simply refuses to give man his place in life. Christian salvation is the counselor of the heart of man. The heart without the heart is like a picture without color or beauty. No man was a complete man until there was some love that thrilled him through and through. No man is never great until his tender heart can be touched and taught forgiveness. God's message is always tender. Jesus' message of love is full of tears. Oh! my sinning friends will you yet come into Him that you may have life, for although you might be crippled with doubt and despair, yet Jesus can save to the uttermost whoever comes to Him."

After a short prayer, Mr. Tullar arose and said, "While God's tenderness is clinging to our hearts, while the love is ringing in our consciences, friends make an earnest appeal to God to give you power to 'surrender.' One of the best sermons that I ever heard preached, was given by this business man, sitting right here below me. He was not paid to say what he did, while speaking in behalf of his delegation of students. No. But he said, 'That among business men, Christian character counts.' And I say it will never discount. It is always taken at par value or above. You do not have to sell it at an auction. It is always in great demand."

Thursday morning, Messrs. Tullar and Merideth were greeted with an enthusiastic assembly of students at the high school, and their energetic applause showed that they appreciate Mr. Tullar's advice on "being sweet."

Sunday afternoon three different meetings will be held, first a mass meeting for men at 3:30 at the Kingston Opera House, at which free admission will be by ticket. Tickets may be secured at the service to night, or outside of the opera house. Mr. Tullar will speak on "Soul Poison." Second, a meeting for women and girls, at the St. James M. E. Church at three o'clock. Dr. A. K. Fuller to speak. Third, a meeting of young people, under the auspices of the evangelistic movement. To be held in the First Reformed Church at four o'clock, under the leadership of Dr. Leeper and Dr. Baragwanath.

Sunday evening, the usual union mass meeting in St. James M. E. Church. This evening at the St. James M. E. Church, the union evangelistic meeting, seven-thirty.

Mr. Decker has been sick for over a week with a severe attack of the grip. At present he is around the house, but not gaining strength very rapidly.

Miss Floessie Davis is improving after a very severe cold.

Friday evening last the M. E. Church people held their fourth quarterly conference in the church parlors. The reports from various committees were given in. In regard to the work of the year, it was as usual, satisfactory, and the plans for 1916 will soon be carried out.

People in this place were shocked beyond measure when the word was received of the death of Lambert Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Leonard, here. He was a very promising young man with a bright future ahead. He was ill only a few days. He died in Schenectady where he had a fine position. He was a graduate of the class of 1909 at the high school here; then he entered Rutgers College; graduated there in the class of 1913, with very high honors. Bread That's Pure

Today, when thousands of products of land and ocean have been converted into food, bread is as important—if not more so—than it was when the prehistoric savages crushed in stone mortars the cereals from which they made their rude loaves. In those days plaster of paris, alum and rice were not used to puff up the bread, save on yeast or add color to the loaves.

Because of its composition, strict purity, digestibility and highly nutritious qualities

Mr. Barnackel

By EDITH V. ROSS

"Enoch Barnackel! What a name! Any one would know that he was a crusty old man of the farmer type, uneducated and with no manners. But what can I do?"

These words were spoken to herself by a girl who had some sixteen years before been left at a foundlings' home and who had been given the name of Helen and had later chosen the additional name of Whitman. She had been retained at the home as an employee till she approached seventeen, then was informed that a farmer named Barnackel had written that he wanted a wife and asked whether one could be sent to him. Helen was informed of the opportunity.

After a long and fearful deliberation, feeling incompetent to go out into the world and make a living, she decided to go out to Mr. Barnackel. If he was very terrible she might commit suicide. The matron approved of her resolution, for she was comely, and the good woman feared that with her inexperience she might fall a victim to some designing person.

Mr. Barnackel was informed that there was a young woman ready to accept his proposition, and he sent money for her journey. The heart broken girl nerved herself to her fate and one afternoon alighted at a railway station at the village near which his farm was located. A young farmer with a whip in his hand approached her and asked if she was the young woman who was to marry Mr. Barnackel.

"I am," was the reply. "That is, if he isn't an ogre."

The young man smiled. His smile was very winning. "I have a team here," he said. "I'll drive you to the farm."

When seated in the wagon and he had said "get up" to the horses Helen expected that he would say something to her. He did not. He seemed to be thinking.

"What kind of a looking man is Mr. Barnackel?" she asked.

Now, the young man was George Barnackel, nephew of the man who had written for a wife. The uncle was fifty years old, his face looked like a ball of strings, his hair was red, and he was just too unlovely for anything.

At any rate, that is the way the daughter of one of the neighboring farmers put it. In fact, he was exactly what Helen had conceived him to be, judging from his name. He must have been a fool or he would never have sent his good looking nephew for a young girl he expected to make his wife. Upon Helen's inquiry George turned his face toward her, displaying a set of regular white teeth by smiling, and asked:

"Suppose I should tell you that he is a disagreeable old codger and always cross as a bear. What would you do?"

"I would jump into the river—that is, if there is one near by."

There was a prolonged silence, at the end of which the young man said:

"And what would you say if I told you that I am Mr. Barnackel?"

Helen's heart went up into her throat. She made no reply to the question, but she smiled nearer to her companion. Presently there came a subdued voice:

"Are you Mr. Barnackel?"

"I am."

Her face was bent low. He leaned lower himself and looked up into it. He saw what he took to be a look of pleasure. Perhaps it was relief. The reins were in his right hand. She was sitting at his left. He put his left arm about her waist. She looked up at him, her eyes wet, a suspicion of a smile on her lips. He kissed them.

"How far is it to the farm?" was the next thing said.

"About three miles."

George drove over six miles, which seemed like three to Helen, then stopped at a farmhouse.

"Wait in the wagon," he said, "while I go in to tell my mother and sister you're here. They don't know you're coming."

Leaving the reins in her hands, he went into the house. He was gone a long while. Helen saw the face of an elderly woman surveying her from a window, then a younger one doing the same.

"Oh, dear," she said, "I hope they're not going to make him send me back!"

Presently a door opened and the two women came out, the elder in advance. She welcomed Helen, though she seemed constrained. Leading her into the house, the younger woman showed her to a chamber upstairs and, shutting the door behind them, took her in her arms, exclaiming:

"You poor child!"

"Why am I to be so pitied?" asked Helen, surprised.

"You're not. It's all right. We'll make you very happy. My brother is not the Mr. Barnackel you came out here to marry. That one is my uncle, a crusty old man who would not do for you at all. Being rheumatic, he asked George to drive you from the station to his farm. George wants you himself. Mother has given her consent, and you are to be married—that is, if you wish to marry George—at once."

Helen replied that she was necessary. George asked if this that his bride belonged to his uncle, was expected by his uncle and unless the knot were tied there was no knowing what he would do in the matter. The chance of being turned over to the old curmudgeon so terrified Helen that she was only too glad to be married at once. The wedding took place that evening.

A CHERUIT MODEL.

A Graceful Frock For Matinee Wear This Winter.

DIRECT FROM PARIS.

This handsome gown, so Frenchy in its design, is developed with winery broadcloth and georgette crepe, which makes a foundation for the sleeves and bodice. Please notice how cleverly novelty plaid ribbon has been used as a girdle and tie, while a pointed fox scarf gives the right finish around the shoulders.

WINTER NECKWEAR.

Newest Notes About Attractive Ways to Dress Your Throat.

Windsor ties of silk taffeta and crepe are in plain, ombre, striped and plaid effects. Ribbon ties are in velvet, satin, grosgrain and belting designs. These are more in cross stripes than in one color. The ends are tasseled with jet or steel, have large silk balls, plaited fans of silk or Chinese looking pendants of jade. The very newest have a buckle of the ribbon part way down, and tiny roses of chiffon dot the necklets from the buckle to the ends. The new jabots have a cascade of lace edging from three to ten inches wide.

The newest ideas are sport stock and glazed leather sets. Scarfs of this soft leather are swathed around the high collars. A plain piece of neckwear is a stock of black moire, taffeta or satin with high tails in front and small tabs of white organdie resting on these. Striped velvet ribbon is worn as a necklet in rose, turquoise, black, bright green, watermelon pink, gold, old blue and violet.

Soft black satin ribbon six inches wide has pointed ends edged with skunk fur. The ribbon is wound around a high collar and tied in a large bow at the back on one side. A choker of violet faille has a short scarf of the same tied once in front, with a circular turnover at the top, fur edged. Turnover points in front trim high collars. Plaited ruffles on top of high collars encircle the head. Pannu velvet collars are trimmed with dull silver lace.

Vestees of white pique, plain and plaided silk, glazed leather, bits of ancient embroidery, beading, tapestry, broche, etc., are all used for a waist length vestee. Linen and pique stocks are stiff with an upper effect to turn over and are worn with a stock bow. One has wings at the sides, another has a tiny shelf standing out all around and points at the sides. Another is scalloped collar in front.

Marabou collars and muffs are in brown, gray or white and always trimmed with ribbon. A black mauline collar and muff set has black and white ribbon bows centered with large jet buttons.

German Toast.

Materials.—Three eggs, one-half teaspoonful salt, two tablespoonfuls sugar, one cupful milk, six slices stale bread. Utensils.—Griddle, bowl, dish, egg beater, cup, spoon, knife, shallow dish. Directions.—Beat eggs slightly; add salt, sugar, milk; strain into shallow dish. Soak bread in mixture; cook on a hot, well greased griddle; brown on one side, turn and brown on other. Serve with sauce made by creaming one-half cupful butter; add one cupful sugar gradually, one egg, well beaten; one teaspoonful vanilla. Just before serving add one-half cupful hot milk.

Mushrooms Stewed.

Take one and a half pints of button mushrooms, clean them, put into an enameled stewpan with three ounces of butter first melted and allowed to brown a little. Stir them gently and shake over a moderate fire in order that the butter may be well distributed over the mushrooms; then add a very little powdered mace or nutmeg with salt, white pepper and cayenne to taste. Cover and cook till done. Serve around or at one side of bread patties.

BE CHEERFUL.

A cheerful and glad spirit attains to perfection much more readily than does a melancholy spirit.—St. Philip Neri.

BULBS IN A BOWL.

An Easy Way to Cultivate Miniature Floating Gardens.

A novel way of growing bulbs, such as crocuses, has been tried with good success. After securing the bulbs the next thing is to get one or two rather large corks. Through these holes are bored and the bulbs fitted into the openings in such a way that the under side, from which the roots spring, is near the lower part of the cork.

Now obtain a large shallow bowl and fill this with pure water. Float the corks, with the bulbs in place, on the surface and set the whole thing aside in a rather shady position for two or three weeks. At the end of this time it will be noticed that the roots are growing down into the water; thence forward a place in a sunny window should be selected.

The upper shoots of the bulbs will start to grow rapidly, and at this time it is a good plan to arrange a little moss to hide the upper surface of the corks, or, if preferred, however, grass or some other seed, such as cress, may be sown to provide a green covering.

There is nothing to do but to keep the bowl well supplied with water and change this now and again. Finally the flowers emerge, and then the effect is extremely pretty. The bulbs may be planted in this way any time up to early January, though naturally the sooner they are started the earlier they will bloom.—S. Leonard Bastin in St. Nicholas.

VICTORIA'S LETTERS.

Royal Secrets That Are Stored Away in Buckingham Palace.

"We may wonder if the world will ever be allowed to see the private correspondence amassed by the late Queen Victoria," says a writer. It is stored away in a strong room built into the walls of Buckingham palace, and the queen shared her confidence with no one.

So long as she was physically able to do so she opened and closed the safe herself and arranged its contents. When she was too feeble to do this she employed an old and trusted secretary, but even he had to work under the royal eye. He was never allowed to keep the keys nor to read the letters that he handled.

Queen Victoria was always a voluminous letter writer, and she was in constant communication with most of the royalties in Europe. Every domestic secret and privacy of royalty during half a century is said to be represented by the contents of this wonderful safe, and it is easy to believe that the modern historian would find his hands full if he were permitted to browse among these letters.

But probably he will have to wait a few hundred years, and then his popular audience will be a languid one. It is one of the ironies of life that we can never have a thing when we want it.—Pittsburgh Press.

A Royal Snake Slaughterer.

The "secretary bird" is one of the most precious birds in South Africa. It is a royal game, and any person destroying one is liable to a fine of £50. Majestic looking birds, they stand about three feet high and generally go in pairs. They are of drab color, with black, feathery legs, and are valued for their propensity for killing snakes. Where the secretary bird is seen there are sure to be many reptiles about. The bird beats down its adversary first with one wing and then with the other, at the same time trampling on it with its feet until the snake is sufficiently stunned to catch it by the head with its claws. Then the bird rises far up in the air and drops its victim to the ground to be killed. By this means thousands of venomous reptiles are destroyed.—London Scraps.

Silver Sword of Hawaii.

One of the most curious plants in the world and one of the greatest interest to all botanists is the silver sword. This exceedingly rare plant, with its magnificent silver spines and handsome crest, may still be found in profusion in the upper part of Kaupapa, the southern outlier of the vast extinct crater of Haleakala, on the island of Maui. It flowers from July to October and occurs hardly anywhere else in the world. Even stranger is the variety known as the green sword, which occurs only in Haleakala crater and is unknown to exist elsewhere.—Honolulu Star Bulletin.

Prince Henry the Navigator.

The kingdom of Portugal counted in its royal house one of the men who held first rank in scientific attainment and practical application. He was the son of John I. of Portugal and Queen Philippa, who was an English princess. He spent his life in sending out ships on voyages of discovery, and it was through this Prince Henry, called "the Navigator," that Columbus got his idea of seeking for a new land across the sea.

Carrots.

Carrots were first introduced into England by Flemish gardeners in the time of Elizabeth, and in the reign of James I. they were still so uncommon that ladies wore bunches of them on their hats and on their sleeves instead of feathers.

Much Entertained.

Said Cholly—I have just been looking over a volume of revised statutes. Quoth Algy—Well? Cholly—I had no idea there were so many interesting ways of breaking the law.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Now Laugh!

Smile. Don't think about it. Probably won't happen that way, anyway.

There's the real trouble—being afraid. We take a little trouble about the size of a gnat and look at it through the magnifying glass of fear until it looks as big as an elephant.

Then we are afraid of our own creation. Thing to do is to squash it while it is still no more than a gnat.

We don't hate squirmy things because of what we know they will do to us, but because of what we fear they might. Our reason tells us they are harmless, but our fear contradicts.

Men are just as bad. No need to tell a woman in what way. Smile.

There's no much joy for the least of us. There's no little pain for the most of us. It seems funny to me that any of us can't smile all the time at the rest of us.

Now laugh!—Los Angeles Times.

Historic Rose Tree.

The most venerable rose tree in existence is said to bloom against the ancient church of Hildesheim, in Germany. Notwithstanding the many parties which at different times have been in the ascendancy, they all seem to have respected and tended the rose tree, which, it is said, was planted by Charlemagne. The trunk is now almost as big as a man's body. There are five principal limbs trained against the church, the tree being protected by iron railings enclosing an area of about twenty-six square feet. The German soldiers in early ages tended the tree; Catholics and Protestants, in turn masters of the town, drained the ground; the soldiers of Turenne fastened up the branches with clamps, and those of Napoleon, a century and a half later, erected the railings.

A Warning.

"You had better be careful, Miss Flirty, or you will find yourself up against the law."

"Oh, what do you mean?"

"Why, you have such a killing way of shooting glances at a fellow."—Baltimore American.

Practical Appraisement.

"Ma, James asked me last night to share his lot."

"Did he say whether it was one in a good building section?"—Baltimore American.

Abrupt.

"Could you lend me a dollar, old 222?"

"Certainly! I could do lots of things I have no intention of doing. Nice day, isn't it?"—Judge.

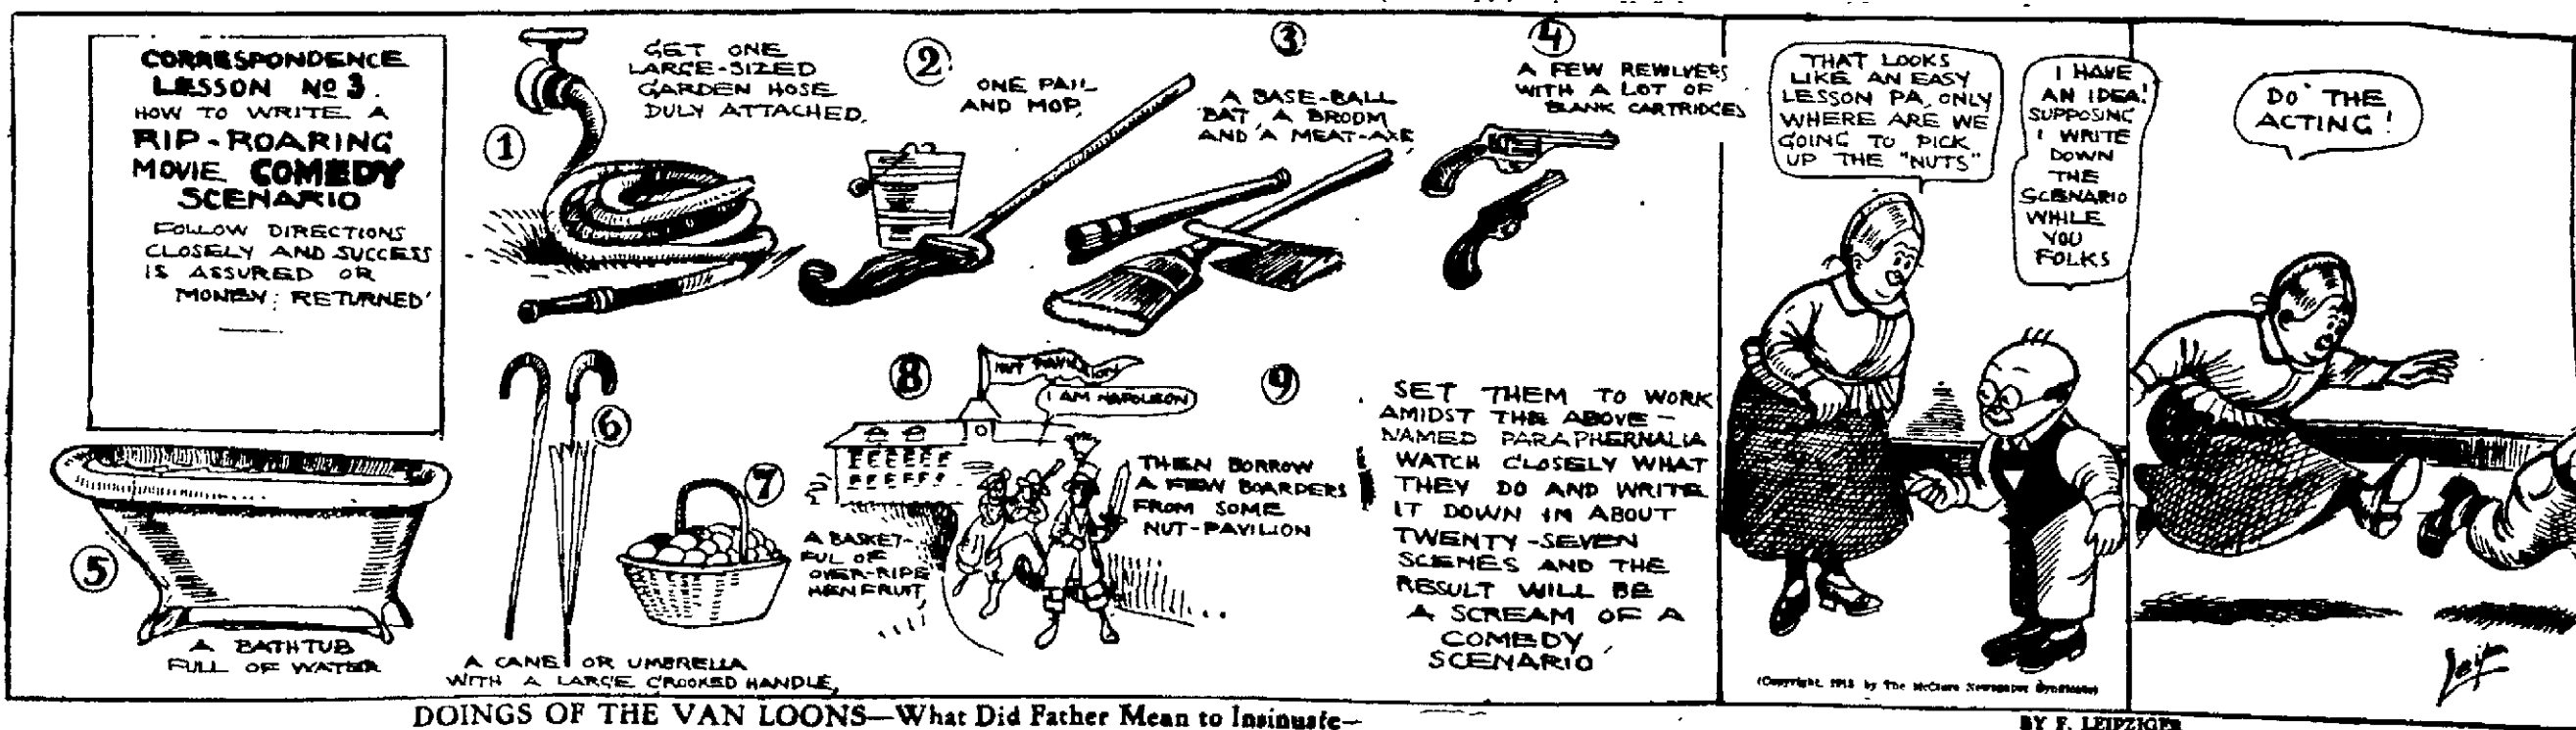

Misfortune.

The fact that God has prohibited despair gives misfortune the right to hope all things and leaves hope free to dare all things.—Mme. Swetchine.

Commonplace Greatness.

Not a day passes over the earth but men and women of no note do great deeds, speak great words or suffer noble sorrows.—Charles Reade.

Patience is bitter, but its fruit is sweet.—Ronsseau.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, Feb. 3.—Funeral services for late Mrs. Rowena Hasbrouck were held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harcourt Pratt, Monday, and were largely attended by relatives and friends. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church here and interested in its workings. Rev. G. H. Scofield, pastor of this church, officiated. Floral emblems were numerous and handsome, showing the high esteem in which she was held. She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving mother two daughters and four sons. Undertaker W. E. Wilcox was funeral director and the interment was in Highland Cemetery.

Captain R. H. Decker was a week end guest of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Decker, of Washington Hollow.

Clarence Smedes of West Park was home Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Smedes. He cannot just give up this delightful place so we see him here often.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Drake were callers here Saturday last. They were to Uriah Decker's and also to see their nephew, Fred Gans, who was so badly injured some time ago. He is improving slowly.

Mrs. J. R. Seaman was a visitor in New Paltz last week.

The Grange met Tuesday evening and D. of A. regular meeting on Wednesday evening.

Low's held their installation of officers. They had a program and all present had a pleasant evening.

Sorry to report the illness of Mrs. Harvey Traver. Hope she may soon be about again.

D. H. Starr reported ill several new cases of colds and grip.

Walter Hasbrouck was a business caller in New Paltz Monday.

Mrs. Marjorie Pressler has guests from out of town.

Report will give a description of Epworth League (note which is to be given Friday evening, February 4, in M. E. Church parlors. In next week's issue of Freeman, for this will be in print on day of the affair, and giving news of affairs before they take place is not satisfactory to readers or printers.

Mrs. Ethel Decker of Ossining was a visitor here the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Decker. Mr. Decker has been sick for over a week with a severe attack of the grip. At present he is around the house, but not gaining strength very rapidly.

Edison Dimsey of New York was a week end visitor with his family at their home on North Road. He enjoys getting at Highland quite often and we do not wonder for he has a very attractive home and likes the change from city life to country.

Glenn to report that George Blemel, who has been quite ill with the grip, is now able to be out.

Mrs. Flossie Davis is improving after a very severe cold.

Friday evening last the M. E. Church people held their fourth quarterly conference in the church parlors. The reports from various committees were given in. In regard to the work of the church it was as usual satisfactory, and the plans for 1916 will soon be carried out.

People in this place were shocked beyond measure when the word was received of the death of Lambert Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Leonard, here. He was a very promising young man with a bright future ahead.

He was ill only a few days. He died in Schenectady where he had a fine position. He was a graduate of the class of 1909 at the high school here; then he entered Rutgers College; graduated there in the class of 1913, with very high honors. He had an attack of the grip and passed out suddenly. He had many friends who express their sympathy to the parents and two brothers who are left. His funeral was largely attended and the many beautiful floral pieces gave evidence of the love and high esteem in which he was held. He will be greatly missed.

Charles Francis of Syracuse was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Clearwater the week end.

Mrs. Athier Winfield has been out of town a few days visiting with friends and reports a very pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Coutant attended the funeral of a sister-in-law on Monday at Ohioville.

Alfred Coutant has been in St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, for an operation. He is improving finely, and expects to be home this week.

Mrs. L. K. Malloch was in Kingston this week on business.

Every once in a while some inspired and noble soul informs us that the public demands happy endings in plays, so just go to the M. E. Church on Friday, February 25, and hear the farce, "Dinner at Six," and you will be convinced. The cast includes six people, who always please, and there will be music by an orchestra, vocal selections, recitations and herbert and cake on sale, and you will be doing a good thing by going out to it, also in getting your friends to go, for this helps on the finances of the church. Just put this down in your book of advance affairs and do not miss it.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Van Nostrand have lost their son and only child. The body was brought here last Sunday for burial. He was a grandson of Frederick Van Nostrand of this place. They reside in New Jersey. He was 19 years old, and a promising young man. It seems very sad. Friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved parents and relatives.

We saw Abraham Wilklow in Poughkeepsie last week.

Daniel H. Starr has returned home, after spending quite some time pleasantly with friends in New York and Brooklyn.

Bertha Dimsey was in Lloyd this week.

Mrs. Daniel Kurtz, who has had a very severe attack of grip, is improving slowly. All hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Corbitt is down with the grip.

It seems to develop new cases every day.

Mrs. Le Barron of this place, who has recently celebrated her 99th birthday, seems very sprightly for one of her age. Last Saturday her niece, Miss Denny, of West Park, visited her and she enjoyed it greatly. Mrs. Le Barron is always pleased to have the people call on her. She has some fine neighbors, who go in often, and take her some flowers or some dainty eatables, and she never gets over talking about it. Your reporter called there recently and he had a very delightful visit. She talked over her younger days of the good times she had, and of the church of which she was always very fond of attending, for she said she was a Methodist clean through, and she never forgets the many good pastors who always go to see her. The Rev. Mr. Coddington calls on her and she greatly appreciates it.

Thursday evening there was a rehearsal of the farce, "Dinner at Six," at the home of Mrs. H. W. Maynard. The people are getting ready for business and expect to make merry with joy on the night of the play. Mrs. R. H. Decker is coaching the cast.

George Pratt, Jr., was one of the lumber dealers from this place, who attended the Lumbermen's Convention in Poughkeepsie on Wednesday last at the Nelson House. It certainly was interesting to all to hear the conversation over the wires from San Francisco, showing what wonderful things can be accomplished by eminent people.

Mrs. George Brown was called to New York last Thursday on account of the severe illness of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Leonard. Her friends are sorry to hear of her illness and hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. James Relyea left on Sunday morning to attend the funeral services of Dr. Calvin Emerick of Glasco, who was a brother of Mrs. Relyea. The services were at 1 o'clock, from the late home of the deceased. He belonged to many organizations, was very popular and a very successful physician and will be greatly missed by everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Wert of Maple avenue spent Sunday out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller had guests from Kingston the week end. Mr. Miller has been home for a few days from work on account of an attack of the grip. At present glad to know he is improving. He hopes to soon be at his position in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Elting spent the week end with friends up at Lanesville and they report a very delightful time.

Miss Lillian Johnson was a week end guest of her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson. She is attending school in New Jersey.

Mrs. J. Weaver is having a siege with the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Lora Osterhoudt of North Road entertained friends from out of town last Sunday.

Camp Fire Girls met at the home of Miss Emma Patridge last Saturday afternoon. They had a fine time and we understand that they are going to rehearse for a play of some sort to be given in the future. With has been ill for several weeks, we are glad to report much improved, which is good news to her friends. Mr. and Mrs. George Cornell had as their guest a few days last week, Mrs. Amelia Elmendorf of Clinton date.

Mrs. Huson, who has been ill, is improving finely and able to go out some.

Concert in Presbyterian Church Monday evening was very well attended and we thought very good.

Ruby Cornell has been visiting in Montondale for a few days with relatives.

Miss Adaline Terwilliger, who indeed.

Bread That's Pure

Today, when thousands of products of land and ocean have been converted into food, bread is as important—if not more so—than it was when the prehistoric savages crushed in stone mortars the cereals from which they made their rude loaves. In those days plaster of paris, alum and rice were not used to puff up the bread, save on yeast or add color to the loaves.

Because of its composition, strict purity, digestibility and highly nutritious qualities is a wholesome food on which adults and children will thrive, even though little meat is added to the diet.

TEICHLER'S STEAMED WHEAT BREAD

WILL CUT ULSTER COUNTY OFFICERS

Amendment to Walton-DeWitt Bill Cutting Health Officials' Compensation Discussed by Physicians at City Hall.

Sentiment among the health officers of the county is opposed to the bill introduced in the legislature by Senator Walton and Assemblyman DeWitt to do away with the minimum salary fixed by the present law for town and village health officers. At a meeting of health officers of the county at the council chamber, city hall, this afternoon, Dr. Charles S. Prest of Watford, told those present that the bill is to be amended so as to apply to Ulster county only.

Dr. Prest said that he had verified this report in a conversation with Assemblyman DeWitt and further stated that State Committeeman Philip Elting had expressed himself in favor of this legislation. He then touched upon the many duties of health officers under the law, the need for their services and the justice of the present compensation fixed at ten cents per capita and not less than $800 a year. An informal discussion of the subject followed.

Movies After Supper.

Saturday evening the Y. M. C. A. will give the first of its moving picture shows, directly following the chicken pie supper which is to be served in the building by the ladies of the Federation of Women's Clubs. The films to be shown are exceptionally fine, the special feature being "Enoch Arden." Other pictures to be shown are of "Carmen" and "An American in the Making," with two humorous reels, one called "Ghosts and Fly Paper," all of which should delight not only the habitual movie enthusiast, but those who only now and then patronize the film plays. A chicken pie supper and fine movies, all under one roof, ought to be enough to delight any one.

Automobile Bus Decision.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 4.—A decision of far reaching importance in the operation of automobile busses was made by the up-state public service commission today upon an opinion by Commissioner D. P. Hodson, which holds that where a bus line operates partly within and partly without a city, the public convenience and necessity sought to be satisfied by such operation, must be considered by the commission to include the territory outside the city as well as that inside.

Severy Is Insane.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 4.—Dr. Henry Mereness, alienist, has pronounced Harold L. Severy, the sensational gunman who recently terrorized Albany as incurably insane. In the opinion of Dr. Mereness Severy should be permanently confined in some institution for the care of the mentally deficient.

The hearing will be before the public service commission to which the application for permission to establish a higher rate has been pending.

GERMANY REJECTS LUSITANIA DEMANDS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Feb. 4.—Germany is understood to have rejected in diplomatic terms the demand of the United States that the sinking of the Lusitania be disavowed. It was authoritatively stated today that the German government will not admit that the destruction of the Cunard liner was illegal. The reply transmitted to the United States sets forth this position clearly, it is stated and makes it plain that under no circumstances will Germany alter its stand.

The garage men will name their committee later and the full committee of nine will then organize and begin making arrangements for the Kingston exhibit.

SO SPRINGLIKE.

White pussy willow taffeta simply set up gives this charming gown with its shoulder cape effect. A georgette crape guimpe is worn under the basque-like bodice, while a bouffant drape over one hip, the other side falling straight, gives a piquant skirt. The dayaway bow on the straw poke bonnet, with its rosebud, deserves especial notice.

A BEAUTIFUL NECK.

How to Improve Your Throat Without Slavery to Throat.

We all know that the neck should not be too short; should be smaller at the top than where it joins the chest and shoulders; that the shoulders should be neither too broad and well developed nor too narrow; that the bones of the chest and back should not be buried with flesh.

It is not given to every woman to have a beautiful neck and shoulders and chest. But she can make the most of the trio, as nature gave them to her, by massage and exercise. And she can do more.

She can care for the skin so carefully, perfecting the texture and coloring, that the form of the neck and chest and shoulders becomes secondary.

Often the skin of the back and chest and shoulders will have small eruptions when the face of the person is clear and free from any such disorder. This is because the clothes cover the body so tightly that the air and sun have no chance to purify the skin beneath as they do the skin of the face.

Frequent baths of sea salt also tend to clear the skin of the neck and bring the blood to the surface, giving it the glow of health. Olive oil or some good cold cream applied to this part of the body keeps the pores open and helps the skin to throw off any secretions which are clogging the pores.

Exercises which stretch the muscles of the back, chest and neck will keep away any superfluous flesh and make the flesh hard and firm.

The neck sometimes gets dark from high and tight collars. For a bleach use the mangle of lemon juice diluted one-third with water. Sponge with it and allow to dry on.

Oatmeal is splendid for whitening the skin and may be used freely.

Consider the Stomach.

The evil habit of going too long without food is one from which many people suffer in this present age. Men sit in their offices, women rush about shopping, and both become so absorbed in their respective interests that the period of hunger is allowed to pass and that of fatigue and depression to set in. The worst feature of such cases is that once the second stage is reached the desire for food is gone, and after this treatment of oneself the stomach is too exhausted to digest a meal when taken. This extreme should be avoided. It is only necessary to take a light diet. A glass of milk, a biscuit, will do to prevent after loss of appetite. And yet those who call themselves sensible prefer to ruin their health rather than take the time and trouble to turn into a restaurant and "junk a glass of milk."

"What fools these mortals be!"

Southern Rice Bread.

Two cups of white cornmeal, three eggs, one and one-quarter pints of milk, one cup of butter, four tablespoons of butter, four teaspoons of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Beat eggs. Add milk, meal, salt and butter. Beat. Add baking powder. Beat again. Bake in three greased pie dishes thirty minutes.

EGGLESS DISHES.

When eggs are expensive it is a relief to find good things which usually call for eggs, prepared without them.

Oatmeal Dainties.—Cream one cupful of butter with one cupful of sugar. Dissolve a teaspoonful of soda in a cupful of sweet milk and add to the butter and sugar, then stir in six cupfuls of rolled oats. Add a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, a half teaspoonful of cinnamon, and a fourth of a teaspoonful of cloves. Mix these with a little flour, add a cupful of raisins and sufficient flour to handle. Flour the hands and make into cakes the size of a silver dollar. Bake in a slow oven until brown. These are cakes which keep well.

Bread Sponge Cake.—Take two cupfuls of brown sugar, one cupful of lard, three cupfuls of light bread sponge, two cupfuls of seeded raisins, two cupfuls of flour, one tablespoonful each of cinnamon and allspice and a half teaspoonful of cloves. Add a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one-half cupful of coffee. Mix the ingredients and let rise a half hour. Bake one hour in a slow oven. This will make a large loaf or two small ones.

Eggless, Butterless, Milkless Cake.—Boil together three minutes a cupful of sugar and water and a half cupful of lard, two cupfuls of raisins, an eighth of a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, a teaspoonful of cloves and a pinch of salt. When cool add two cupfuls of flour, a cupful of molasses, a half teaspoonful of baking powder, a teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in a little water. Bake forty minutes. This makes a chewy cake which the children especially enjoy.

Cream Spice Cake.—Take a cupful of sour cream, one cupful of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of soda, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a pinch of salt, one-fourth of a tablespoonful each of ginger, allspice and cloves, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon. Stir with flour to make a drop batter and bake in a moderate oven.

The Bulldog.

The bulldog, unlike the majority of dogs, very seldom barks. In fact, owing to the construction of his throat his attempts at barking are more like a burlesque of the real thing. He wades into a fight without any vocal warning, and the only sound he emits is his heavy breathing. His courage is astonishing, and the largeness of his opponent never acts as a deterrent when hostilities are imminent. Still, as he is not a quarrelsome dog, he very rarely indulges in street brawls, and, as he is exceedingly good natured, it takes a lot to rouse him.

The modern bulldog is undoubtedly a different looking animal from his bulldogging ancestors. The most conspicuous "improvements" introduced by the present day "fancy" are largeness of head, width of chest, heaviness of bone and more typical tail.

What the Peruvians Believed.

A unique idea of the future state was that of the ancient Peruvians. As the disembodied soul winged its way to eternity it encountered two rocks, upon one of which it must needs rest. The choice was determined by the morality of the life in the flesh. If it rested upon the left hand rock it was instantly translated to "Po," or oblivion, a state analogous to the Nirvana of the orient. If through early misdeeds, however, the unhappy spirit was guided to the right hand rock it entered into a purgatorial hell where fiends grated away the flesh from all the bones in succession, after which the skeleton was re clothed and sent back to earth for another try. There was no haste about this grating process. It took something over 10,000 years.

Antiquity of Soap.

In spite of the antiquity of soap, as evidenced by a soap shop still to be seen in the ruins of Pompeii, the chemistry of soapmaking was not understood by us until about a century ago. Since then soap and armaments have become intimately associated with each other. For a long time soap-makers made no profit out of their "lyes." Now they extract from these byproducts glycerin, which, besides being a drug, food and "toilet requisite," enters into the manufacture of nitroglycerin and is the basis of dynamite and other high explosives.—London Spectator.

Mucilage to Stick on Tin.

Whoever has tried to stick a paper label on a piece of tin knows how difficult it is. Here, however, is a recipe for a mucilage especially designed for this purpose and published by Nature: In 150 cubic centimeters of boiling water dissolve twenty grams of gum tragacanth and add a paste made of sixty grams of flour and ten grams of dextrine dissolved in forty cubic centimeters of water. Dilute the whole with 200 cubic centimeters of boiling water and add ten grams of glycerin and ten grams of salicylic acid. Boil for five minutes, stirring constantly.

A Useless Advertisement.

An old man, well past sixty, entered the publication offices of the Book and Life and asked to be directed to the lost and found counter. At the proper department, he requested the insertion of the following "liner ad.":

LOST—About forty years ago—an opportunity. It is probably worthless now, but I will reward the honest finder who brings it to me, as I am curious to know what it might have done for me had I not been careless with it.

The clerk read the advertisement and then looked pityingly at the old man.

"Well, insert your ad.," he said, "but it is my duty to inform you that there is hardly any use in putting it in. We have no records of any lost opportunities ever having been found."

The old man thought for a few minutes, then he said:

"Well, insert it anyhow. People will read it and start to thinking."

Then he went away.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cross Eyed Mentally.

Do you ever start to say something and find yourself using the word you hadn't the faintest idea of using? Just a little cross eyed mentally, aren't you? Did you ever mean to jam your foot on the accelerator and slam it down on the brake instead? Have you ever put salt twice on the same plateful of food when one of the applications should have been pepper? Did you ever laugh at the wrong time at the theater, or sneeze unnecessarily at a funeral, or fall to sleep quietly in church, or solicitously inquire where So-and-so is nowadays when the poor chap has been dead six months? Sure you have. Everybody does it. We're all just a bit mentally cross eyed sometimes, and we don't look where it seems that we are looking. What we really need to look out for is not doing queer things too often. If we do there's no telling what may happen to us. We may get into the papers!—Springfield Union.

RAE LOMBARD.

FIEND THROWS ACID AT BABY AS SHE LIES ASLEEP IN CARRIAGE.

New York, Feb. 4.—Detectives of the Third Branch Bureau today are looking for an insane person who it is thought is endangering the lives of infants by attempting to throw carbolic acid upon them.

Mrs. Nina Lombard reported that she had found the pillow in her infant daughter's carriage wet with carbolic acid. The child, Rae Lombard, one and a half years old, was unharmed.

Following so closely upon the act of a maniac who last week threw lysol on Julius Clemens, three weeks old, while he slept in front of a candy store, the police are making every effort to catch the perpetrator.

Metal lace and embroidered net are combined in this evening gown, which is well suited to a matronly figure. The apron effect with its insets of gold lace is one of the popular details of the season. Black and gold is carried out in the gown, even to the gold satin sash and rich sunflower which is fastened to the crushed satin girdle.

A Graceful Frock For Matinee Wear This Winter.

DIRECT FROM PARIS.

This handsome gown, so French in its design, is developed with winy broadcloth and georgette crepe, which makes a foundation for the sleeves and bodice. Please notice how cleverly novelty plaid ribbon has been used as a girdle and tie, while a pointed fox scarf gives the right finish around the shoulders.

WINTER NECKWEAR.

Newest Notes About Attractive Ways to Dress Your Throat.

Windsor ties of silk taffeta and crepe are in plain, ombre, striped and plaid effects. Ribbon ties are in velvet, satin, grosgrain and belting designs. These are more in cross stripes than in one color. The ends are tasseled with jet or steel, have large silk balls, plaited fans of silk or Chinese looking pendants of jade. The very newest have a buckle of the ribbon part way down, and tiny roses of chiffon dot the neck-let from the buckle to the ends. The ends are three to ten inches wide.

The newest ideas are sport stock and glazed leather sets. Scarfs of this soft leather are swathed around the high collars. A plain piece of neckwear is a stock of black moire, taffeta or satin with high tabs in front and small tails of white organdie resting on these. Striped velvet ribbon is worn as a necklet in rose, turquoise, black, bright green, watermelon pink, gold, old blue and violet.

Soft black satin ribbon six inches wide has pointed ends edged with skunk fur. The ribbon is wound around a high collar and tied in a large bow at the back on one side. A choker of violet faille has a short scarf of the same tied once in front, with a circular turnover at the top, fur edged. Turnover points in front trim high collars. Plaited ruffles on top of high collars encircle the head. Fanue velvet collars are trimmed with dull silver lace.

Vestees of white pique, plain and plaided silk, glazed leather, bits of an ancient embroidery, beading, tapestry, broche, etc., are all used for a waist length vestee. Linen and pique scarves are stiff with an upper effect to turn over and are worn with a stock bow. One has wings at the sides, another has a tiny shelf standing out all around and points at the sides. Another is seahorse wider in front.

Maron collars and muffs are in brown, gray or white and always trimmed with ribbon. A black maline collar and muff set has black and white ribbon bows centered with large jet buttons.

German Toast.

Materials.—Three eggs, one-half teaspoonful salt, two tablespoonfuls sugar, one cupful milk, six slices stale bread. Utensils.—Griddle, bowl, dish, egg beater, cup, spoon, knife, shallow dish. Directions.—Beat eggs slightly; add salt, sugar, milk; strain into shallow dish. Soak bread in mixture; cook on a hot, well greased griddle; brown on one side, turn and brown on other. Serve with sauce made by creaming one-half cupful butter; add one cupful sugar gradually, one egg, well beaten; one teaspoonful vanilla. Just before serving add one-half cupful hot milk.

Mushrooms Stewed.

Take one and a half pints of button mushrooms, clean them, put into an enameled stewpan with three ounces of butter first melted and allowed to brown a little. Stir them gently and shake over a moderate fire in order that the butter may be well distributed over the mushrooms; then add a very little powdered mace or nutmeg with salt, white pepper and cayenne to taste. Cover and cook till done. Serve around or at one side of bread patties.

BE CHEERFUL.

A cheerful and glad spirit attains to perfection much more readily than does a melancholy spirit.—St. Philip Neri.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown during the sickness and death of my husband, Herman Koch, also for the floral tributes. MRS. HERMAN KOCH, HIS WIFE.

BULBS IN A BOWL.

An Easy Way to Cultivate Miniature Floating Gardens.

A novel way of growing bulbs, such as crocuses, has been tried with good success. After securing the bulbs the next thing is to get one or two rather large corks. Through these holes are bored and the bulbs fitted into the openings in such a way that the underside, from which the roots sprout, is near the lower part of the cork.

Now obtain a large shallow bowl and fill this with pure water. Float the corks with the bulbs in place, on the surface and set the whole thing aside in a rather shady position for two or three weeks. At the end of this time it will be noticed that the roots are growing down into the water; therefore, forward a place in a sunny window should be selected.

The upper shoots of the bulbs will start to grow rapidly, and at this time it is a good plan to arrange a little moss to hide the upper surface of the corks, or, if preferred, however, grass or some other seed, such as cereals, may be sown to provide a green covering. There is nothing to do but to keep the bowl well supplied with water and change this now and again. Finally the flowers emerge, and then the effect is extremely pretty. The bulbs may be planted in this way any time up to early January, though naturally the sooner they are started the earlier they will bloom.—S. Leonard Bestin in St. Nicholas.

VICTORIA'S LETTERS.

Royal Secrets That Are Stored Away In Buckingham Palace.

"We may wonder if the world will ever be allowed to see the private correspondence amassed by the late Queen Victoria," says a writer. It is stored away in a strong room built into the walls of Buckingham palace, and the queen shared her confidence with no one.

So long as she was physically able to do so she opened and closed the safe herself and arranged its contents. When she was too feeble to do this she employed an old and trusted secretary, but even he had to work under the royal eye. He was never allowed to keep the keys nor to read the letters that he handled.

Queen Victoria was always a voluminous letter writer, and she was in constant communication with most of the royalties in Europe. Every domestic secret and privacy of royalty during half a century is said to be represented by the contents of this wonderful safe, and it is easy to believe that the modern historian would find his hands full if he were permitted to browse among these letters.

But probably he will have to wait a few hundred years, and then his popular audience will be a languid one. It is one of the ironies of life that we can never have a thing when we want it.—Pittsburgh Press.

A Royal Snake Slaughterer.

The "secretary bird" is one of the most precious birds in South Africa. It is royal game, and any person destroying one is liable to a fine of £50. Majestic looking birds, they stand about three feet high and generally go in pairs. They are of drab color, with black, feathery legs, and are valued for their propensity for killing snakes. Where the secretary bird is seen there are sure to be many reptiles about. The bird beats down its adversary first with one wing and then with the other, at the same time tramping on it with its feet until the snake is sufficiently stunned to catch it by the head with its claws. Then the bird rises far up in the air and drops its victim to the ground to be killed. By this means thousands of venomous reptiles are destroyed.—London Scraps.

Silver Sword of Hawaii.

One of the most curious plants in the world and one of the greatest interest to all botanists is the silver sword. This exceedingly rare plant, with its magnificent silver spines, and handsome crest, may still be found in profusion in the upper part of Kaupapa, the southern outlier of the vast extinct crater of Haleakala, on the island of Maui. It flowers from July to October and occurs hardly anywhere else in the world. Even stranger is the variety known as the green sword, which occurs only in Haleakala crater and is unknown to exist elsewhere.—Honolulu Star Bulletin.

Prince Henry the Navigator.

The kingdom of Portugal counted in its royal house one of the men who hold first rank in scientific attainment and practical application. He was the son of John I. of Portugal and Queen Philippa, who was an English princess. He spent his life in sending out ships on voyages of discovery, and it was through his Prince Henry, called "the Navigator," that Columbus got his idea of seeking for a new land across the sea.

Carrots.

Carrots were first introduced into England by Flemish gardeners in the time of Elizabeth, and in the reign of James I. they were still so uncommon that ladies wore bunches of them on their hats and on their sleeves instead of feathers.

Much Entertained.

Said Cholly—I have just been looking over a volume of revised statutes. Quoth Algy—Well? Cholly—I had no idea there were so many interesting ways of breaking the law.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Now Laugh!

Smile. Don't think about it. Probably won't happen that way, anyway.

And, if it does, 'twon't be as bad as you fear. There's the real trouble—being afraid. We take a little trouble about the size of a quail and look at it through the magnifying glass of fear until it looks as big as an elephant.

Then we are afraid of our own creation.

Thing to do is to squash it while it is still no more than a quail.

We don't hate quail things because of what we know they will do to us, but because of what we fear they might. Our reason tells us they are harmless, but our fear contradicts. Men are just as bad.

No need to tell a woman in what way.

Smile. There's so much joy for the least of us. There's so little pain for the most of us. It seems funny to me that any of us can't smile all the time at the rest of us. Now laugh!—Los Angeles Times.

Historic Rose Tree.

The most venerable rose tree in existence is said to bloom against the ancient church of Hildesheim, in Germany. Notwithstanding the many parties which at different times have been in the ascendancy, they all seem to have respected and tended the rose tree, which, it is said, was planted by Charlemagne. The trunk is now almost as big as a man's body. There are five principal limbs trained against the church, the tree being protected by iron railings enclosing an area of about twenty-six square feet. The German soldiers in early ages tended the tree; Catholics and Protestants, in turn masters of the town, drained the ground; the soldiers of Turenne fastened up the branches with clamps, and those of Napoleon, a century and a half later, erected the railings.

A Warning.

"You had better be careful, Miss Flirty, or you will find yourself up against the law."

"Oh, what do you mean?"

"Why, you have such a killing way of shooting glances at a fellow."—Baltimore American.

Practical Appraisement.

"Ma, James asked me last night to share his lot."

"Did he say whether it was one in a good building section?"—Baltimore American.

Abrupt.

"Could you lend me a dollar, old zen?"

"Certainly! I could do lots of things I have no intention of doing. Nice day, isn't it?"—Judge.

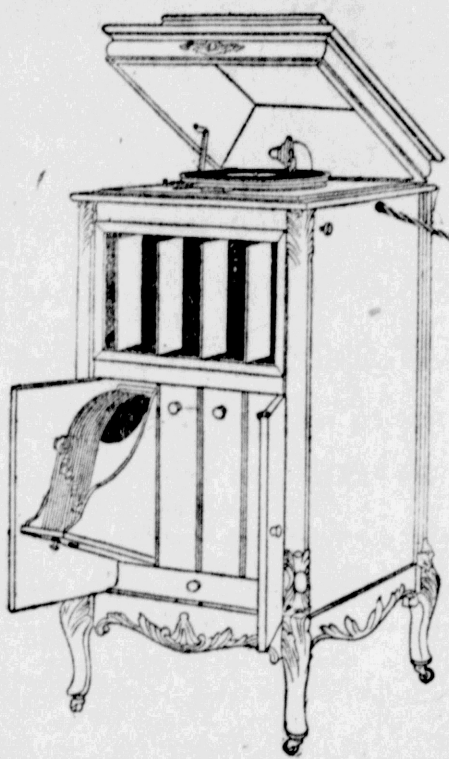

Misfortune.

The fact that God has prohibited despair gives misfortune the right to hope all things and leaves hope free to dare all things.—Mme. Swetchine.

Commonplace Greatness.

Not a day passes over the earth but men and women of no note do great deeds, speak great words or suffer terrible sorrows.—Charles Reade.

Patience is bitter, but its fruit is sweet.—Rousseau.

SPORTING SPLINTERS

In searching for a successor to Vivian Nickalls, the Penn committee finds one candidate who is willing to coach the Red and Blue crews for nothing. As his terms are the lowest so far known, he will probably land the job.—New York American.

Jess Willard is to give New Orleans its first heavyweight championship fight since 1892. From Sullivan vs. Corbett to Willard vs. Moran. And yet they say that civilization has moved forward.—New York Tribune.

It now looks as if the 1916 Olympics scheduled for Berlin will be held in Funchal, Madeira, or Montevideo, Uruguay.—Philadelphia North American.

One of the beauties of playing football for Carlisle is that you are allowed to play as long as you like, unless your grand-children object.—New York Journal.

"The best football player of the year" is the last star you have seen in action. First it was Eddie Mahan, then it was Charles Barrett, and finally it was Oilphant.—Philadelphia North American.

It is interesting to note that a man as well informed on the sport as John Anderson estimates the number of golfers in the United States as 600,000. We have heard a lot of persons maintain that there were not over 60 golfers in the United States.—New York World.

CONNIE MACK FOOLED ANSON

"Cap" Left Stranded on Third Base After Hitting Ball Over Fence—Batting Rally Fizzled.

Once upon a time—in the days of long ago—"Cap" Anson hammered a ball over the fence, but refused to advance farther than third base, although he was entitled to a home run, and his team was three runs behind at that time. Why?

Well, in those days the catcher played back until there was a man on base. Connie Mack happened to be the catcher that day and Whitney was the pitcher for the club opposing the Chicagoans. Anson figured that if he lingered on third Mack would have to move up back of the batter and Whitney would be forced to pitch slower. Anson knew that one run would be useless to his side, and he thought that slower pitching would enable his men to stage a batting rally.

However, Connie fooled the shrewd Anson by taking a long chance in refusing to move up after Pfeffer had been thrown out at first. Then he took up his station back of the batter and Ed Williamson fanned, leaving Anson stranded on third, despite the fact that he had made a home-run drive.

INDOOR GAMES IN NEW YORK

Junior and Senior Meets Not Be Held in Baltimore as Previously Announced by A. A. U.

Officers of the Amateur Athletic union report that the coming indoor championship games will not be held in Baltimore, as was previously announced.

The junior and senior meets will, in all probability, be held in New York city as in the past few years. Baltimore, the home of A. A. U. President Turner, will be a bidder for the games a year hence when conditions and arrangements for the double meet are more propitious.

Seven of Crew Eligible. Seven of the eight-oared crew of Leeland Stanford university, which finished second to Cornell in the Poughkeepsie regatta last June, will be eligible for next year's contest, it is expected.

Just a Supposition. The information in the Good Book to the effect that there will be no giving in marriage in heaven may refer to wedding presents only.

BIG JUBILEE WILL MARK ANNIVERSARY OF Y. W. C. A. IN U. S.

New York, Feb. 4.—A big jubilee will mark the fiftieth anniversary on March 3, of the Young Women's Christian Association in the United States. In New York the celebration will be preceded during February with preliminary festivities, and will wind up with an historical pageant on February 25. Mrs. James S. Cushman, president of the New York Association, is supervising the arrangements. Women of prominence in society and in various lines of activity are interested in the association and in the coming festivities. Miss Dorothy Perkins is chairman of the General Jubilee Committee, and other members are Mrs. Evans Dick, Mrs. Henry Sloane Coffin, Mrs. D. Hunter McAlpin, Jr., Mrs. William Fellowes Morgan, Miss Mabel M. Ford, Miss Beatrice Lowme, Miss Dorothy Dickinson and Miss Edna Wells. The pageant is being arranged by Miss Hazel Mackaye. The modest beginning of this organization that now in the United States numbers 981 associations, had its real start in America in Boston, when a group of women, impressed with the needs of girls thrown upon their own resources in a city, hired two rooms and fitted them up as headquarters and installed a kindly woman as hostess and secretary. Thus the organization began its usefulness of securing employment and finding respectable homes for lonely girls. In New York city the association has ten branches, and out of the more than $2,000,000 which was raised in the whirlwind campaign two years ago, a ten story building is being put up.

OPERA HOUSE FOR SUNDAY MEETING

Evangelistic Services There for Men While Women Will Gather at St. James's Church—Speakers Announced.

Two big meetings will feature the union evangelistic services on Sunday afternoon. One for men will be held in the opera house at 3 o'clock and the other, for women, will be in the St. James M. E. Church at the same time. These two meetings will furnish an exceptional opportunity for everyone and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Grant C. Tullar, who is conducting the musical part of these meetings and whose seriousness and sincerity are deeply appreciated by all his hearers, will be the speaker at the men's meeting. His subject will be "Some Poison," and the committee urges all men and young men over 16 to attend this meeting. It is expected that Dr. A. K. Fuller, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church of Rondout, will address the women's meeting in St. James's Church. Dr. Fuller is well known as an able speaker and the committee believes the mere mention of his name as the speaker of the afternoon will assure a large audience.

ABSOLUTELY PAINLESS

There is such a thing as painless dentistry at our parlors. We use an effective local anesthetic and have used it in hundreds of cases without the slightest distress to the patients. It completely dulls pain, is perfectly and positively harmless, and leaves no after-effects whatever. It affects only the tooth being treated. It is one of the progressive methods adopted by this office.

Painless Extractions

During the year 1915 the Cady Dental Offices in Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Newburgh and Middletown performed over ten thousand extractions. These operations were painless. Local Anaesthetics were used in the majority of cases but nitrous-oxide gas in a few. This wonderful record should make a deep impression on those who have teeth which require extraction and desire to have the operation done painlessly.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB. 4, 1916.

"There is no navy in the world that has to cover so great an area of defence as the American navy, and it ought to be incomparably the greatest navy in the world," said President Wilson at St. Louis. "This is precisely the sentiment which The Freeman has expressed several times. The theory of Secretary Josephus Daniels that all we need is the second best navy is the conclusion of a silly mind. It is plain to every thinker that the vast expenditure of Germany in constructing a second class navy was wasted, since her warships dare not come out and fight. Why should we repeat that error? It is all very well to argue that when two or more nations vie with each other for pre-eminence on the seas the competition is likely to end in the financial exhaustion of all. Theoretically, that reasoning is sound, but it falls under existing special circumstances. War has so weakened all the other nations financially that none of them can spend half the money we can, and if we resolve to have the biggest navy they will be forced to acquiesce. With command of the seas in our hands, we can supplant England as the maker of rules regulating traffic and fighting, which will be to the tremendous advantage of humanity, since we alone can undertake the task in a disinterested spirit. If this plan is carried out, the great war may result indirectly in benefits which will go far to offset the disasters it has caused.

While the President has been rousing the West in his self-constituted role of alarm clock for the nation, a small but energetic body of Congressmen has started to combat his statements on the world conflagration with a little back-fire all their own. What Congressman Dies, of Texas, styles "The Battle Cry of Peace" has been attached at a series of public meetings in Washington and convicted of almost every crime on the calendar by a lot of fervid speech-makers. "We cannot afford to add fuel to the flame which is consuming the old world," was the significant message sent by Bryan to the pacifists. That epitomizes the sentiment of the President's friends within his own party. As for the friends of the President's policy, they are not unlike a volunteer fire department operating without officers. All agree on the existence of the fire, but there is a wide difference of opinion upon the methods to be adopted to prevent the spread of the blaze to our shores. There are no two expert opinions alike as to the actual needs for national defense, but all are agreed that something must be done—an opinion shared by Americans generally. If the President's tour of the Middle West does nothing more than to stir up widespread discussion of this problem, it will have done much to clear the situation and impress Congress with the popular viewpoint.

"Thrill Day," observed Thursday for the starting of bank accounts and the making of good resolutions for economy and saving time has such a sensible sound that it may prove of some permanent value despite its questionable popularity with a people who like to spend. Americans are proverbially inclined to be "spenders," whether it is their personal money or natural resources that are thus wasted. To set apart a special day for the correction of this habit may not be so bad thing in itself, but the calendar is already fairly well crowded with special days which cover a variety of activities, from fire prevention to tree-planting. Any special "ism" or uplift that wants a flying start usually selects a day and after suitably christening it, the subject is passed over to the newspapers, who obligingly do the rest. It might be a better plan to make every day a Thrill Day rather than only one day in the 365, or 366 as is the case this year. But you cannot inculcate in people a habit of saving grace, so to speak, if they are not so disposed.

"Investigate before investing." That is the alliterative safety first message which the national vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World is sending out to prospective buyers of worthless stocks. The campaign is intended, first of all, to prevent the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars in savings through such investments. Some of the pointed questions asked are as to the relation of the capitalization of the company to the actual or future value of its property, the use of the money raised by the sale of stock, the commissions paid the salesman, what promotion stock has been given and when cash dividends can reasonably be expected. In those few questions are some pretty useful obstacles to the sale of worthless stocks, which is annually a great burden on the nation. They are a protection to readers of such advertisements and legitimate securities benefit as a result of the simple test thus prescribed.

YES—IT IS POSSIBLE TO STOP RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is a tormenting and stubborn malady. In some cases it yields to treatment which is without avail in other cases.

The darting pains, lame muscles or stiffened joints only disappear by gradually expelling the uric acid, and so many thousands have been relieved by the blood-enriching oil food in Scott's Emulsion that you should give it a faithful trial. Scott's Emulsion acts as a powerful blood-purifier by increasing the red corpuscles and it strengthens the organs to carry off the acids which cause the trouble.

Try Scott's Emulsion. It cannot harm. It has helped thousands and may be exactly what you need. No Alcohol.

What Is Economy?
Secretary of Commerce Redfield asks the above question and then answers it thus:
"ECONOMY is spending money wisely. It means spending much when much is needed, spending little when little is needed, none when none is needed."
"ECONOMY and frugality are not the same things. Frugality at times is really waste."
And the essence of true economy is knowledge.
The information as given from day to day in the advertising in a live newspaper like The Freeman is a guide to true economy.

For the Visitors.

In fall view of the crowd in a very busy street two vendors of berries were busy with piles of thin wooden boxes, each scantily filled with immature fruit. Emptying box after box, the vendors deftly punched up one layer of the box bottom to a sharp angle pointed in the middle, propped it there with paper and then refilled the receptacle, taking great care that the finest and freshest looking berries should make a showy top covering.

One of the spectators grew indignant. "How in the world," he demanded, "do you expect to sell your wares when you openly show that they are not what they seem to be?"

"Aw, gwan!" said the vendor addressed. "This is New York, and there are more trains coming with more people."—Everybody's.

First Steam Press.

On Nov. 29, 1814, a newspaper for the first time was printed by steam. Although the application of steam power to printing machinery had been successfully experimented with some years previously, the hostility of the working printers rendered it undesirable for the masters to introduce such a startling innovation into their printing houses. Toward the end of 1814, however, the growing circulation of the Times made a change of some kind necessary, and in the face of fierce opposition the second John Walter set up a steam printing press. So on the morning of Nov. 29 the leading article of the Times announced to its readers that they held in their hands that day a copy of the first newspaper to be printed by steam.—London Answers.

Wood Engraving.

It is still a mystery whether wood engraving came to Europe from the east or was rediscovered by some European artist. There is a like uncertainty regarding the precise date of the first European woodcut. It is only known that European wood engraving was going on as early as the first quarter of the fifteenth century. It has been proved that a woodcut in the Paris library was printed in 1490. The very earliest wood engraving consisted of outlines and white spaces with smaller black spaces, but shading is rare.

Wooden Look.

"Although Chagun has had a car for almost six months, he still seems to think a pedestrian has some rights."

"How do you account for that attitude?"

"It's very peculiar. It certainly shows a woeful lack of self confidence."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Single and Double Flowers.

The petals of a single flower fall sooner than those of a double one for the reason that the inner petals are transformed more slowly and retain the power of adherence they need when performing their original function.

The Greek Kalends.

"Postponed to the Greek kalends" is a Roman phrase used when the Greeks had no calendar and therefore meant, as regards a debt, that it would never be paid.

MISS META SCHNAARS.

TRANSFUSION TRIED TO SAVE GIRL VICTIM OF POISONING.

New York, Feb. 4.—Transfusion of blood to save a victim of gas poisoning is the latest effort of medical science. Relatives and physicians are anxiously watching today for signs of a change in the condition of the patient, Miss Meta Schnaars, of Palisades Park, N. Y.

Miss Schnaars is eighteen years old. A week ago she was found in her room unconscious. A gas pipe in her closet was broken.

The girl seemingly is paralyzed. The only nourishment she has been able to take has been liquid given by artificial means. Her blood, it is said, was coagulating. Instead of a warm, leaping life fluid, it was slowly turning to a paste.

Something had to be done quickly. Transfusion of blood from a healthy man was decided upon. After forty tests the right sort of blood was found and the fortieth man submitted to a loss of a quart of his blood.

The sluggish blood was drawn from the veins of Miss Schnaars and the bright red liquid from the arteries of the man was slowly pumped into her body.

Then the physicians sat down to wait. Whatever change may come will come slowly, it is thought.

THE KIND OF MEATS YOU WANT AT Messinger's Saturday Sale

Let everyone who likes really good meat pay a visit to this market. Men and their wives find it a treat, because they invariably find what they come for. People who want "cheap" tough sale meats never come here because they cannot be accommodated. Here are always the most "aristocratic" steaks, chops, roasts and other tender joints for your "democratic" approval, and the prices, although perhaps a cent or two higher than at certain markets, will in the long run be found the lowest for best qualities.

WILL CUT ULSTER COUNTY OFFICERS

Amendment to Walton-DeWitt Bill Cutting Health Officials' Compensation Discussed by Physicians at City Hall.

Sentiment among the health officers of the county is opposed to the bill introduced in the legislature by Senator Walton and Assemblyman DeWitt to do away with the minimum salary fixed by the present law for town and village health officers. At a meeting of health officers of the county at the council chamber, city hall, this afternoon Dr. Charles S. Prest of Waterford, told those present that the bill is to be amended so as to apply to Ulster county only.

Dr. Prest said that he had verified this report in a conversation with Assemblyman DeWitt and further stated that State Committee member Philip Elting had expressed himself in favor of this legislation. He then touched upon the many duties of health officers under the law, the need for their services and the justice of the present compensation fixed at ten cents per capita and not less than $800 a year. An informal discussion of the subject followed.

Movies After Supper.

Saturday evening the Y. M. C. A. will give the first of its moving picture shows, directly following the chicken pie supper which is to be served in the building by the ladies of the Federation of Women's Clubs. The films to be shown are exceptionally fine, the special feature being "Enoch Arden." Other pictures to be shown are of "Carmen" and "An American in the Making" with two humorous reels, one called "Ghosts and Fly Paper," all of which should delight not only the habitual movie enthusiast, but those who only now and then patronize the film plays. A chicken pie supper and fine movies, all under one roof, ought to be enough to delight any one.

Automobile Bus Decision.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 4.—A decision of far-reaching importance in the operation of automobile busses was made by the up-state public service commission today upon an opinion by Commissioner D. P. Hodson, which holds that where a bus line operates partly within and partly without a city, the public convenience and necessity sought to be satisfied by such operation, must be considered by the commission to include the territory outside the city as well as that inside.

Severely Is Insane.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 4.—Dr. Henry Hennessey, alienist, has pronounced Harold L. Severely, the sensational gunman who recently terrorized Albany as incurably insane. In the opinion of Dr. Hennessey Severely should be permanently confined in some institution for the care of the mentally deficient.

Protest Against Raised Fare.

Albany, Feb. 4.—Mayors and delegations of city authorities from all over the state will protest against the proposed raise of fares on the New York Central Railroad at a meeting to be held February 15. The hearing will be before the public service commission to which the application for permission to establish a higher rate has been pending.

GERMANY REJECTS LUSITANIA DEMANDS

By Telegram to The Freeman. Berlin, via Amsterdam, Feb. 4.—Germany is understood to have rejected in diplomatic terms the demand of the United States that the sinking of the Lusitania be disavowed. It was authoritatively stated today that the German government will not admit that the destruction of the Cunard liner was illegal.

The reply transmitted to the United States sets forth this position clearly. It is stated and makes it plain that under no circumstances will Germany alter its stand.

COMMITTEES FOR AUTOMOBILE SHOW

President Leighton, of the Chamber of Commerce, has named M. Schlesinger as chairman of the committee of three from that body who will co-operate with the Automobile Club of Ulster county and the local automobile men in the Kingston automobile show booked for the latter part of next month. The other members are Frank R. Powley and Dr. A. C. Gates.

For the Automobile Club, William R. Harrison, Thomas D. Abrams and Dr. H. T. Menard have been named. The garage men will name their committee later and the full committee of nine will then organize and begin making arrangements for the Kingston exhibit.

OFF FOR PALM BEACH.

One of the First Frocks For Her Going South.

SO SPRINGLIKE.

White pussy willow taffeta simply set up gives this charming gown with its shoulder cape effect. A georgette crumpe gumpels worn under the basque-like bodice, while a bouffant drape over one hip, the other side falling straight, gives a pliant skirt. The straw poke bonnet, with its rosebud, deserves especial notice.

A BEAUTIFUL NECK.

How to Improve Your Throat Without Slavery to Routine.

We all know that the neck should not be too short, should be smaller at the top than where it joins the chest and shoulders; that the shoulders should be neither too broad and well developed nor too narrow; that the bones of the chest and back should not be buried with flesh.

It is not given to every woman to have a beautiful neck and shoulders and chest. But she can make the most of the trio, as nature gave them to her, by massage and exercise. And she can do more.

She can care for the skin so carefully, perfecting the texture and coloring, that the form of the neck and chest, and shoulders becomes secondary.

Often the skin of the back and chest and shoulders will have small eruptions when the face of the person is clear and free from any such disorder. This is because the clothes cover the body so tightly that the air and sun have no chance to purify the skin beneath as they do the skin of the face.

Frequent baths of sea salt also tend to clear the skin of the neck and bring the blood to the surface, giving it the glow of health. Olive oil or some good cold cream applied to this part of the body keeps the pores open and helps the skin to throw off any secretions which are clogging the pores.

Exercises which stretch the muscles of the back, chest and neck will keep away any superfluous flesh and make the flesh hard and firm.

The neck sometimes gets dark from high and tight collars. For a bleach use the magic of lemon juice diluted one-third with water. Sponge with it and allow to dry on.

Oatmeal is splendid for whitening the skin and may be used freely.

Consider the Stomach.

The evil habit of going too long without food is one from which many people suffer in this present age. Men sit in their offices, women rush about shopping, and both become so absorbed in their respective interests that the period of hunger is allowed to pass and that of fatigue and depression to set in. The worst feature of such cases is that once the second stage is reached the desire for food is gone, and after this treatment of oneself the stomach is too exhausted to digest a meal when taken. This extreme should be avoided. It is only necessary to take a light diet. A glass of milk, a biscuit, will do to prevent after loss of appetite. And yet those who call themselves sensible prefer to ruin their health rather than take the time and trouble to turn into a restaurant and "drink a glass of milk."

"What fools these mortals be!"

Southern Rice Bread.

Two cups of white cornmeal, three eggs, one and one-quarter pints of milk, one cup of boiled rice, two tablespoons of butter, four teaspoons of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Beat eggs. Add milk, meat, salt and butter. Beat. Add baking powder. Beat again. Bake in three greased pie dishes thirty minutes.

Trouble Ever Present.

"Do you have any trouble when you are saying your lessons in school, Tommy?"
"Yes, sir."
"What seems to trouble you most?"
"The teacher."—Stray Stories.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

If each man's secret, unexpressed care were written on his brow, How many would our pity share Who have our envy now?

And if the promptings of each heart No artifice concealed, How many trusting friends would part At what they saw revealed.

EGGLESS DISHES.

When eggs are expensive it is a relief to find good things which usually call for eggs, prepared without them.

Oatmeal Dainties.—Cream one cupful of butter with one cupful of sugar. Dissolve a teaspoonful of soda in a cupful of sweet milk and add to the butter and sugar, then stir in six cupfuls of rolled oats. Add a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, a half teaspoonful of cinnamon, and a fourth of a teaspoonful of cloves. Mix these with a little flour, add a cupful of raisins and sufficient flour to handle. Flour the hands and make into cakes the size of a silver dollar. Bake in a slow oven until brown. These are cakes which keep well.

Bread Sponge Cake.—Take two cupfuls of brown sugar, one cupful of lard, three cupfuls of light bread sponge, two cupfuls of seeded raisins, two cupfuls of flour, one tablespoonful each of cinnamon and allspice and a half teaspoonful of cloves. Add a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one-half cupful of coffee. Mix the ingredients and let rise a half hour. Bake one hour in a slow oven. This will make a large loaf or two small ones.

Eggless, Butterless, Milkless Cake.—Boil together three minutes a cupful of sugar and water and a half cupful of lard, two cupfuls of raisins, an eighth of a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, a teaspoonful of cloves and a pinch of salt. When cool add two cupfuls of flour, a cupful of molasses, a half teaspoonful of baking powder, a teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in a little water. Bake forty minutes. This makes a chewy cake which the children especially enjoy.

Cream Spice Cake.—Take a cupful of sour cream, one cupful of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of soda, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a pinch of salt, one-fourth of a tablespoonful each of ginger, allspice and cloves, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon. Stir with flour to make a drop batter and bake in a moderate oven.

Nellie Maxwell

The Bulldog. The bulldog, unlike the majority of dogs, very seldom barks. In fact, owing to the construction of his throat his attempts at barking are more like a burlesque of the real thing. He wades into a fight without any vocal warning, and the only sound he emits is his heavy breathing. His courage is astonishing, and the largeness of his opponent never acts as a deterrent when hostilities are imminent. Still, as he is not a quarrelsome dog, he very rarely indulges in street brawls, and, as he is exceedingly good natured, it takes a lot to rouse him.

What the Peruvians Believed.

A unique idea of the future state was that of the ancient Peruvians. As the disembodied soul winged its way to eternity it encountered two rocks, upon one of which it must needs rest. The choice was determined by the morality of the life in the flesh. If it rested upon the left hand rock it was instantly translated to "Po," or oblivion, a state analogous to the Nirvana of the orient. If through early misdeeds, however, the unhappy spirit was guided to the right hand rock it entered into a purgatorial hell where fiends grated away the flesh from all the bones in succession, after which the skeleton was re clothed and sent back to earth for another try. There was no haste about this grating process. It took something over 10,000 years.

Antiquity of Soap.

In spite of the antiquity of soap, as evidenced by a soap shop still to be seen in the ruins of Pompeii, the chemistry of soapmaking was not understood by us until about a century ago. Since then soap and armaments have become intimately associated with each other. For a long time soapmakers made no profit out of their "lyes." Now they extract from these byproducts glycerin, which, besides being a drug, food and "toilet requisite," enters into the manufacture of nitroglycerin and is the basis of dynamite and other high explosives—London Spectator.

Mucilage to Stick on Tin.

Whosoever has tried to stick a paper label on a piece of tin knows how difficult it is. Here, however, is a recipe for a mucilage especially designed for this purpose and published by Nature: In 150 cubic centimeters of boiling water dissolve twenty grams of gum tragacanth and add a paste made of sixty grams of flour and ten grams of dextrine dissolved in forty cubic centimeters of water. Dilute the whole with 200 cubic centimeters of boiling water and add ten grams of glycerin and ten grams of salicylic acid. Boil for five minutes, stirring constantly.

A Useless Advertisement.

An old man, well past sixty, entered the publication offices of the Book and Life and asked to be directed to the lost and found counter. At the proper department, he requested the insertion of the following "liner ad."

LOST—About forty years ago—an opportunity. It is probably worthless now, but I will reward the honest finder who brings it to me, as I am curious to know what it might have done for me had I not been careless with it.

The clerk read the advertisement and then looked pityingly at the old man.

"We'll insert your ad," he said, "but it is my duty to inform you that there is hardly any use in putting it in. We have no records of any lost opportunities ever having been found."

The old man thought for a few minutes, then he said:

"Well, insert it anyhow. People will read it and start to thinking."

Then he went away. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cross Eyed Mentally.

Do you ever start to say something and find yourself using the word you hadn't the faintest idea of using? Just a little cross eyed mentally, aren't you? Did you ever mean to jam your foot on the accelerator and slam it down on the brake instead? Have you ever put salt twice on the same plateful of food when one of the applications should have been pepper? Did you ever laugh at the wrong time at the theater, or sneeze unnecessarily at a funeral, or fall to sleep quietly in church, or solicitously inquire where So-and-so is nowadays when the poor chap has been dead six months? Sure you have. Everybody does it. We're all just a bit mentally cross eyed sometimes, and we don't look where it seems that we are looking. What we really need to look out for is not doing queer things too often. If we do there's no telling what may happen to us. We may go 'tude the papers!—Springfield Union

THE LOMBARD.

FIEND THROWS ACID AT BART AS SHE LIES ASLEEP IN CARRIAGE.

New York, Feb. 4.—Detectives of the Third Branch Bureau today are looking for an insane person who it is thought is endangering the lives of infants by attempting to throw carbolic acid upon them.

Mrs. Nina Lombard reported that she had found the pillow in her infant daughter's carriage wet with carbolic acid. The child, Rae Lombard, one and a half years old, was unharmed.

Following so closely upon the act of a maniac who last week threw lysol on Julius Clemens, three weeks old, while he slept in front of a candy store, the police are making every effort to catch the perpetrator.

By La Rosemonte.

Metal lace and embroidered net are combined in this evening gown, which is well suited to a matronly figure. The apron effect with its insets of gold lace is one of the popular details of the season. Black and red is carried out in the gown, even to the gold satin sash and rich sun-sets, which is fastened to the crushed satin girdle.

MT. TREMPER.

MT. TREMPER, Feb. 4.—What might have proved a very serious accident happened on Sunday afternoon. As N. D. Wilber and the Misses Gertrude Sylvester and Freida Randall were leaving the church Mr. Wilber's horse became frightened at something and ran, the wagon upsetting and throwing them all out on the church ground. Both Miss Sylvester and Miss Randall escaped with slight bruises but Mr. Wilber was rendered unconscious, as he fell on his face, injuring it very badly. Dr. Gross was called and after a while Mr. Wilber was taken to his home at Lake Hill by auto. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

A skimming and bride on Monday evening. Congratulations are extended to them.

A number are still ill with the grip and colds.

The play "Farm Folks" will be given at the church hall on Friday evening, the 11th.

Miss Josephine Lockwood called on Mrs. L. S. Randall Tuesday.

Miss Gertrude Sylvester spent Tuesday at Mrs. Wilber's at Lake Hill.

Benj. Cook and son, Benj. Cook, Jr., of Alligerville, visited relatives here this week.

WOODLAND.

Woodland, Feb. 4.—Miss Helen Miller of Woodland, who is attending school at Kingston, entertained a number of her school friends from Kingston at her home in Woodland over Sunday.

Edward Hallenbeck and son, Louis, have been erecting a new ice house and they filled the same last week with very fine ice from E. B. Miller's pond.

E. B. Miller of Woodland made a business trip to Kingston on Monday.

Thomas Roberts and wife are keeping house in Woodland.

Clement Borchard of New York city visited his mother, Mrs. H. J. Borchard, over Sunday.

John Lord is very busy getting out lumber for W. O. Schwarzwald of Chichester.

Louis Hallenbeck is very busy getting out telephone poles for the New York Telephone Company.

About four inches of snow fell in this place on Tuesday.

Binnewater Ice Harvest.

The Binnewater Lake Ice Company will begin cutting ice from Binnewater Lake on Saturday morning, and the work of filling the house will be resumed on Sunday.

During the cold weather in early January, the company cut ice and began filling its house in this city, but the January thaw compelled operations to be discontinued. On account of the uncertainty of the weather, it will be necessary to push the work until the house is filled.

A Highland Falls Mystery.

Highland Falls has its weekly mystery, this time the appearance of a man in convict's clothing creating a stir.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Thursday morning through the efforts of Mr. Kearney, the high school students had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Tullar and Mr. Meridith, who are conducting the evangelistic meetings in this city. First Mr. Meridith, with whom nearly all the students were acquainted ekher from singing under his leadership at the boys' convention in Rochester or at the recent meetings, sang a solo that put the student body in a very receptive mood to listen to the address by Mr. Tullar that followed. These gentlemen favored the young people with nearly an hour of their time and the pupils were sorry when the assembly closed.

This evening the Girls' Basketball team will give a dance in the gymnasium at which they will charge 15 cents admission. The students seem to forget that the girls need support as much as any school activity, but a large attendance at this entertainment would in a measure make up for the half hearted support of the past.

The High School Midgets play their first game with an out of town team Saturday afternoon at 2:30. They are a fast team of mostly little freshmen weighing on an average not more than 100 pounds or so. They have cleaned up all the teams of their size in town and have hopes of doing the same to Rhinebeck on Saturday.

SHANDAKEN.

Shandaken, Feb. 4.—A birthday surprise was given Miss Blanche Colwell by her many friends on Wednesday evening, February 3. The evening was very enjoyably spent and every one had a pleasant time.

C. H. Lenhart, of the Fulton Furniture Co., who has been spending a few days in New York, has returned.

The funeral of Miss Helen Dutcher, who died recently, was held at the Free Methodist Church Thursday and was very largely attended.

Rev. D. N. F. Blakeney of Pine Hill officiated, assisted by Rev. R. C. Smith. The pall bearers were six young ladies and six gentlemen, all about the same age of the deceased.

They were Miss Clementine Lafferty, Miss Flossie Peck, Miss Orpha Krom, Miss Maud Hinkley, Miss Essie Hilliker, Miss G. Smith. The young men were Benj. Gulnick, Joseph Yerry, John Miller, Gilbert Redmond, George Hughes and Charles Paterson. The young ladies carried the flowers, which were very beautiful. The service was very impressive.

Several surveyors of the board of water supply of New York city have engaged board in this place and will begin work Monday.

F. S. Osterhout is completing finishing up his store preparatory to opening it up for business in the spring.

Mrs. E. D. Coons has been called to Windham to see her mother, who is ill.

SPORTING SPLINTERS

In searching for a successor to Vivian Nickalls, the Penn committee finds one candidate who is willing to coach the Red and Blue crews for nothing. As his terms are the lowest so far known, he will probably land the job.—New York American.

Jess Willard is to give New Orleans its first heavyweight championship fight since 1892. From Sullivan vs Corbett to Willard vs Moran. And yet they say that civilization has moved forward.—New York Tribune.

It now looks as if the 1916 Olympics scheduled for Berlin will be held in Puncal, Madeira, or Montevideo, Uruguay.—Philadelphia North American.

One of the beauties of playing football for Carlisle is that you are allowed to play as long as you like, unless your grand-children object.—New York Journal.

"The best football player of the year" is the last star you have seen in action. First it was Eddie Mahan, then it was Charles Barrett, and finally it was Oliphant.—Philadelphia North American.

It is interesting to note that a man as well informed on the sport as John Anderson estimates the number of golfers in the United States as 600,000. We have heard a lot of persons maintain that there were not over 60 golfers in the United States.—New York World.

CONNIE MACK FOOLED ANSON

"Cap" Left Stranded on Third Base After Hitting Ball Over Fence—Batting Rally Fizzled.

Once upon a time—in the days of long ago—"Cap" Anson hammered a ball over the fence, but refused to advance farther than third base, although he was entitled to a home run, and his team was three runs behind at that time. Why?

Well, in those days the catcher played back until there was a man on base. Connie Mack happened to be the catcher that day and Whitney was the pitcher for the club opposing the Chicagoans. Anson figured that if he lingered on third Mack would have to move up back of the batter and Whitney would be forced to pitch slower. Anson knew that one run would be useless to his side, and he thought that slower pitching would enable his men to stage a batting rally.

However, Connie fooled the shrewd Anson by taking a long chance in refusing to move up after Pfeffer had been thrown out at first. Then he took up his station back of the batter and Ed Williamson fanned, leaving Anson stranded on third, despite the fact that he had made a home-run drive.

INDOOR GAMES IN NEW YORK

Junior and Senior Meets Not Be Held in Baltimore as Previously Announced by A. A. U.

Officers of the Amateur Athletic Union report that the coming indoor championship games will not be held in Baltimore, as was previously announced.

The junior and senior meets will, in all probability, be held in New York city as in the past few years. Baltimore, the home of A. A. U. President Turner, will be a bidder for the games a year hence when conditions and arrangements for the double meet are more propitious.

Seven of Crew Eligible.

Seven of the eight-oared crew of Lehigh University, which finished second to Cornell in the Poughkeepsie regatta last June, will be eligible for next year's contest. It is expected.

Just a Supposition.

The information in the Good Book to the effect that there will be no giving in marriage in heaven may refer to wedding presents only.

BIG JUBILEE WILL MARK ANNIVERSARY OF Y. W. C. A. IN U. S.

New York, Feb. 4.—A big jubilee will mark the fiftieth anniversary on March 3, of the Young Women's Christian Association in the United States. In New York the celebration will be preceded during February with preliminary festivities, and will wind up with an historical pageant on February 25.

Mrs. James S. Cushman, president of the New York Association, is supervising the arrangements. Women of prominence in society and in various lines of activity are interested in the association and in the coming festivities. Miss Dorothy Perkins is co-chairman of the General Jubilee Committee, and other members are Mrs. Evans Dick, Mrs. Henry Sloane Coffin, Mrs. D. Hunter McAlpin, Jr., Mrs. William Fellowes Morgan, Miss Mabel M. Ford, Miss Beatrice Lowme, Miss Dorothy Dickinson and Miss Edna Wells.

The pageant is being arranged by Miss Hazel Mackay. The modest beginning of this organization that now in the United States numbers 281 associations, had its real start in America in Boston, when a group of women, impressed with the needs of girls thrown upon their own resources in a city, hired two rooms and fitted them up as headquarters and installed a kindly woman as hostess and secretary. Thus the organization began its usefulness of securing employment and finding respectable homes for lonely girls.

In New York city the association has ten branches, and out of the more than $2,000,000 which was raised in the whirlwind campaign two years ago, a ten story building is being put up.

WHAT TO EAT EASILY SOLVED AT Shader's Saturday Sale!

There is scarcely a household allowance so liberal that the good housewife does not find it necessary often to debate as to what may be considered extravagant. This problem is even more difficult when table expenses must be kept down "as low as possible." How familiar that term, "as low as possible," sounds, and yet how easy it is to solve the problem if this market and its choice, fresh stocks are summoned to aid. Why not try it Saturday during our popular week end sale?

Mr. Addis Goes to Syracuse.
W. L. Addis, formerly manager of the L. B. Van Wagonen Company, left town with his family this morning for Syracuse, where he will take charge of a big store on South Salina street. Shortly after severing connections with the Van Wagonen Company, Mr. Addis became affiliated with Frank Forman, of the Up-to-Date Company and the two are owners of the new Syracuse store. This will be another link in the chain of stores that this company is now operating. The W. L. Addis Company, as the new establishment is called, will cater to the best of Syracuse's society and will deal in ladies' fine clothing. Andre Bouton, the French milliner, formerly occupied the store where Mr. Addis is situated and the building is being improved throughout, with a new elevator, 'Cressian' walnut fixtures and new front.

LECTURE ON INSECTS.

Manager Hook Instructs and Entertain High School Pupils.

Manager W. H. Hook of the Farm Bureau gave an instructive illustrated lecture on insects before about 200 students at the high school Thursday afternoon after the close of school. On account of the bright sunlight in the auditorium, the audience was obliged to occupy seats on the stage "behind the scenes," the curtain being lowered to bar the extreme sunlight. The biology and agricultural classes attended the lecture which they found very interesting because of the diversion from dry text books. Mr. Hook will deliver other addresses to the farming and biological classes in the future, including a corn judging demonstration. Saturday he will give a lecture at Cottkill on the same line as the high school talk.

Life and Character Reading
FEBRUARY 4

This horoscope shows a person who is apt to exaggerate all the events of life.

There needs to be great self-confidence and less fear. The will to do should be cultivated by daily concentration of the purpose.

While the nature is cheerful and affectionate there are times when the slightest mistake throws the nature into gloom and confusion of thought.

This may be overcome, however, and the person should dwell on the right side of things, refuse to give life to what seems against him and rise to the full powers which are bestowed upon him by Nature.

Nurses and doctors will do well to use The Freeman Want Ads for the coming two weeks.

FATAL EXPLOSION AT BREWSTER PLANT

Harvey Schoonmaker of Tillson Killed While at Work Alone in the Priming House at Noon Today.

Harvey Schoonmaker of Tillson was killed in an explosion at the plant of the Brewster Powder Company at Port Ewen about noon today. From what could be learned Schoonmaker was at work in what is known as the priming house, where the cartridges are loaded. He was alone at the time and it is presumed that he dropped some of the cartridges and they exploded. His body was badly torn, especially about the head. The roof of the building was wrecked and the windows smashed. As each of the company's buildings set alone by themselves the damage was confined to the building in which Schoonmaker was employed. Dr. George W. Ross was summoned but found the man beyond medical aid. Coroner E. A. Kelly took charge of the remains. Mr. Schoonmaker is survived by his mother and one sister, Mrs. George Proper, of Port Ewen.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 4.—After a little irregularity at the start the stock market this morning developed strength, many issues making substantial gains. Most interest was centered in the war order stocks.

Cruible Steel moved up 2 1/4 to 82 1/4. Industrial Alcohol 1 1/4 to 157 1/2 and Distillers Securities 1 1/4 to 48. Steel Common rose 1/4 to 83 1/4 and fractional gains were made in Anaconda and American Smelting. Goodrich Rubber recovered its dividend of 1 per cent, which it sold "ex" at the outset, selling at 73 with the dividend off, against 72 1/2 with the dividend on at the close yesterday. New York Central was the strongest of the railway group, rising 1/2 to 107. Reading opened 1/4 lower at 78. People's Gas sold off 1/4 at 108 1/4.

In the late forenoon the market became unsettled and many issues were in free supply at moderate concessions. Stocks that had made gains of from one to over four points lost all their improvement. Steel Common after selling at 84 1/4, dropped to 82 1/4. The rest of the list moved in about the same way.

A steadier tone was in evidence in the late afternoon and many issues rallied substantially from their early low levels. Cruible Steel was the most prominent, rising from 80 1/4 to 83 1/4. Industrial Alcohol rallied 2 points to 154 1/2, and Distillers one point to 48. Steel Common after selling at 82 1/4, rose to 83 1/4, but again became heavy and receded to 83.

The market closed irregular. The standard issues and many specialties were again under pressure. Distillers securities was active and strong, advancing to 50 1/4. Highest this year. Other stocks yielded in the late trading which was without special feature. Government bonds unchanged; others strong.

Painless Extractions

During the year 1915 the Cady Dental Office in Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Newburgh and Middletown performed over ten thousand extractions. These operations were painless. Local Anaesthetics were used in the majority of cases but nitrous-oxide gas in a few. This wonderful record should make a deep impression on those who have teeth which require extraction and desire to have the operation done painlessly.

ABSOLUTELY PAINLESS

There is such a thing as painless dentistry at our parlors. We use an effective local anesthetic and have used it in hundreds of cases without the slightest distress to the patients. It completely dulls pain, is perfectly and positively harmless, and leaves no after-effects whatever. It affects only the tooth being treated. It is one of the progressive methods adopted by this office.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVES
PLAY OUT OF TOWN

Fresh from a long string of victories, the Kingston high school basketball team will try their luck on an unfamiliar court tonight when they journey inland to Middletown. This is the first game out of town for the home lads and they will have to play their best to nose out the Middletowners, who are not feeling over-happy toward the maroon and white clan since the two football defeats in the fall. Basketball is one of the most popular sports in the lively inland city and the high school of that place has had it in its curriculum for many years. As a result of this long experience and on account of the good support given the team the Middletown five can be relied upon to turn out a good team, one that will make the local laddies hustle to bring back the bacon.

A recent practice game with the Kingston Five has helped to show the weak points in the team and they have remedied these shortcomings. A strong factor in the victories secured to date is the fact that all the games have been staged in the high school gymnasium, which is a barrier to long shots, and pass work is necessary. Teams coming here have tried time and again to net counts through long tries for the cage but have failed on account of the gliders across the gym. Despite the fact that this has helped to win games for the locals there is no doubt that a team has been shaped which is doing the high school justice and keeping the colors of the school floating above the rest of the athletic world. Eight men including Coach Shumaker will take the trip, leaving here Friday night and returning Saturday.

An invasion of Dutchess county will occur Saturday afternoon, the G. A. A. five of Kingston high school crossing the Hudson to Rhinebeck, where they will pull hair ribbons with the girls of that peaceful little hamlet. The girls' team of the high school is also unbeaten and it will be a mighty good aggregation that tramples their colors in the dust. They have developed a smoothly running machine with no flaws in it and their pass work and clever shooting have won games both on the home court and on foreign territory. The Rhinebeck clan is composed of real country maidens who are accustomed to hard work, whether it be on the farm or on basketball courts and a good game is expected.

Midgets Play Rhinecliff Saturday.
At 2:30 in the local high school gym, the Midgets will play their first interscholastic game for the championship of this section of the state Saturday. The Rhinecliff Midgets will be the opposing force and a swift game is anticipated. Admission, 10 cents.

Holy Cross Beat Acme.

In the second half the Holy Cross ran away from their opponents. Out of six fouls called on the Acme, the Holy Cross could not cage one; while out of seven chances, the Acme got three. The score:

Holy Cross.	F.	T.

MENKE'S DAILY
SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Feb. 4.—The Eastern wrestling skeptics asked to be shown, whereupon Joe Stecher, the western wonder displayed his wares, and convinced everyone in Gotham town that he is one of the greatest grapplers since the days when Frank Gotch was in his prime.

Stecher came to New York for his bout with Mort Henderson, "The Masked Marvel," touted as a whirlwind on the mat. Gotham didn't believe it but it does now? The way in which Stecher toyed with Henderson was a revelation.

Oddly enough, Stecher never was tutored by a professional wrestler. Some reports have it that "Farmer" Burns introduced him to the rudiments of the game. These are erroneous. Stecher's only instructor has been his older brother, Anton, who knew only a little more about the wrestling game than did Joe when the boys began grappling back in their home town in Dodge, Neb.

Learns Without Teacher.

Five years ago the Stecher boys became interested in wrestling while attending the Y. M. C. A. in Fremont, Neb. When they returned to the farm they continued grappling in their odd moments. No one told them anything about the tricks in the wrestling game. Whenever they could find the time to do so, they would go to some wrestling match in which professionals were involved. They would watch the tricks uncovered by the "pros" and then go home and try them out on each other.

Out in Dodge they idolize Joe—and well they should. Not only has Joe risen to heights that should make Dodge proud that it produced him, but incidentally, Joe made some of the Dodge boys rather wealthy.

About three years ago Joe blossomed out in public as a wrestler. He showed up wonderfully well among the amateurs. He "pinned" every man whom he tackled. That made the citizens of Dodge quite boastful about Joe and his ability. Those boasts seeped into the outside world, whereupon several different bunches of gamblers in Omaha decided to "clean up" Dodge and the immediate vicinity.

Wins Bets For Friends.

When Stecher won with ease all of his early matches, the town of Dodge issued a deft to the effect that Stecher could meet anyone in the county, catch-as-catch-can style. That was the summons for the gamblers. They sent a few emissaries down Dodge way who boasted So-and-So who was a great wrestler. The Dodge folks grabbed at the bait.

"He may be good—but he's not as good as Stecher," announced Dodge, in one voice.

Whereupon, a match was made, the gamblers brought on a "ringer" and coaxed the Dodge folks to bet on Stecher. It wasn't hard to coax those fellows; they were only too willing to back Stecher to the limit of their bankrolls. And Stecher won.

Beats Many Ringers.

Time and again the gamblers brought other famous wrestlers to Dodge and the vicinity, under assumed names, and matched them against Stecher. On each and every occasion the gamblers plunged recklessly, feeling sure that this was the time that Stecher would be beaten. But Stecher wasn't. He beat every man the gamblers pitted against him, and the Dodge boys who pyramided their bets on him ran a few dollars into the thousands.

When Stecher made his early appearance in Omaha there was a certain clique that scoffed at him. It had heard about "wonders" before; it wasn't going to be "taken in" again. But Stecher kept on wrestling, kept on doing his best at all time, kept on winning and very soon Omaha and all the west awakened to the fact that it had produced a grappler who knows no peer at the catch-as-catch style.

Is Physical Marvel.

Stecher, who is of Bohemian parentage, is 6 feet tall, weighs 200 pounds, and has a wonderful physical development. Stecher's legs and arms are impressive almost to the point of being uncanny. His arms are long and sinewy and his legs show muscular development beyond anything ever seen in New York. Stecher has the most powerful pair of legs ever owned by any wrestler, and it is largely because of this that he has been so successful.

The scissors hold, long regarded as one of the most effective on the mat, has been perfected to the highest point by Stecher. He is as fast as a streak of lightning on the mat and when once he secures his scissors hold it is only a matter of seconds before he has pinned his opponent's shoulders to the mat.

Stecher broke in upon New York after it had experienced three solid months of wrestling. That tournament enabled the fans to "get a line" on real wrestlers—and ordinary wrestlers. And those who saw every one of the international grapplers and then saw Stecher are unanimous in declaring:

"Stecher is the greatest of them all."

Revival Activities.

A prayer meeting for women is being held this afternoon by Mrs. T. H. Baragwanath in the Fair Street Reformed Church.

A meeting for children was opened at 3:30 o'clock by Mr. Tullar in the St. James M. E. Church. Mr. Tullar's question is: "What Are You Doing to Save Your Child?" The age limit for this service is stated to be from one to 100 years.

Optimistic Thought.

The Smoke of the Active!

There's one fashion that never changes—the refreshing, wholesome, youthful, spirited fashion of "rolling your own" for a lively smoke with good old "Bull" Durham.

In no other way can you get a cigarette so fresh and fragrant, so full of vigor, energy and action. The man who "rolls his own" with "Bull" Durham has the taste of a connoisseur.

GENUINE
"BULL" DURHAM
SMOKING TOBACCO

The wonderful mildness of "Bull" Durham sets it apart from all other tobaccos, and its unique mellow-sweet flavor gives distinctive enjoyment to a cigarette.

"Bull" Durham is made of "bright" Virginia-North Carolina leaf—the choicest that grows. It is smooth, rich, most satisfying—and mild.

YES—IT IS POSSIBLE TO STOP RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is a tormenting and stubborn malady. In some cases it yields to treatment which is without avail in other cases.

The darting pains, lame muscles or stiffened joints only disappear by gradually expelling the uric acid, and so many thousands have been relieved by the blood-enriching oil-food in Scott's Emulsion that you should give it a faithful trial. Scott's Emulsion acts as a powerful blood-purifier by increasing the red corpuscles and it strengthens the organs to carry off the acids which cause the trouble.

Try Scott's Emulsion. It cannot harm. It has helped thousands and may be expected to help you. No Alcohol.

What Is Economy?

Secretary of Commerce Redfield asks the above question and then answers it thus:

"ECONOMY is spending money wisely. It means spending much when much is needed, spending little when little is needed, none when none is needed."

"ECONOMY and frugality are not the same things. Frugality at times is really waste."

And the essence of true economy is knowledge.

The information as given from day to day in the advertising in a free newspaper like The Freeman is a guide to true economy.

For the Visitors

In full view of the crowd in a very busy street two vendors of berries were busy with piles of thin wooden boxes, each scantily filled with immature fruit. Emptying box after box, the vendors deftly punched up one layer of the box bottom to a sharp angle pointed in the middle, propped it there with paper and then refilled the receptacle, taking great care that the finest and freshest looking berries should make a showy top covering.

One of the spectators grew indignant. "How in the world," he demanded, "do you expect to sell your wares when you openly show that they are not what they seem to be?"

"Aw, gwan," said the vendor addressed. "This is New York, and there are more trains coming with more people. —Everybody's."

First Steam Press

On Nov. 29, 1814, a newspaper for the first time was printed by steam. Although the application of steam power to printing machinery had been successfully experimented with some years previously, the hostility of the working printers rendered it inadvisable for the masters to introduce such a startling innovation into their printing houses. Toward the end of 1814, however, the growing circulation of the Times made a change of some kind necessary, and in the face of fierce opposition the second John Walter set up a steam printing press. So on the morning of Nov. 29 the leading article of the Times announced to its readers that they held in their hands that day a copy of the first newspaper to be printed by steam.—London Answers.

Wood Engraving

It is still a mystery whether wood engraving came to Europe from the east or was rediscovered by some European artist. There is a like uncertainty regarding the precise date of the first European woodcut. It is only known that European wood engraving was going on as early as the first quarter of the fifteenth century. It has been proved that a woodcut in the Paris library was printed in 1400. The very earliest wood engraving consisted of outlines and white spaces with smaller black spaces, but shading is rare.

Worful Luck

"How do you account for that attitude?"

"It's very peculiar. It certainly shows a worful lack of self confidence." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

Single and Double Flowers

The petals of a single flower fall sooner than do those of a double one for the reason that the inner petals are transformed more slowly and retain the power of elasticity they need when performing their original function.

THE KIND OF MEATS YOU WANT AT Messenger's Saturday Sale

Let everyone who likes really good meat pay a visit to this market. Men and their wives find it a treat, because they invariably find what they come for. People who want "cheap" tough sale meats never come here because they cannot be accommodated. Here are always the most "aristocratic" steaks, chops, roasts and other tender joints for your "democratic" approval, and the prices, although perhaps a cent or two higher than at certain markets, will in the long run be found the lowest for best qualities.

Genuine Saturday Price-Cutting AT WASHINGTON MARKET

We always insist on highest meat, canned goods and vegetable qualities and the fairest cash prices. Quality is the measure of usefulness and service a purchase yields. Economy lies not in spending the least, but gaining the greatest advantage through the money spent. Quality is economy—"cheapness" is extravagance. We founded this business on quality and feel certain that it shall prosper through a rigid policy of giving patrons an "economy service" as true as steel. From a comparatively small beginning we have built a public confidence that shall endure. Try us Saturday and see how thoroughly we can please you.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Thursday morning through the efforts of Mr. Kearney, the high school students had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Tullar and Mr. Meridith, who are conducting the evangelistic meetings in this city. First Mr. Meridith, with whom nearly all the students were acquainted, ekher from singing under his leadership at the boys' convention in Rochester or at the recent meetings, sang a solo that put the student body in a very receptive mood to listen to the address by Mr. Tullar that followed. These gentlemen favored the young people with nearly an hour of their time and the pupils were sorry when the assembly closed.

This evening the Girls' Basketball team will give a dance in the gymnasium at which they will charge 15 cents admission. The students seem to forget that the girls need support as much as any school activity, but a large attendance at this entertainment would in a measure make up for the half hearted support of the past.

The High School - Midgets play their first game with an out of town team Saturday afternoon at 2.30. They are a fast team of mostly little freshmen weighing on an average not more than 100 pounds or so. They have cleaned up all the teams of their size in town and have hopes of doing the same to Rhinebeck on Saturday.

SHANDAKEN.
Shandaken, Feb. 4.—A birthday surprise was given Miss Blanche Colwell by her many friends on Wednesday evening February 2. The evening was very enjoyably spent and every one had a pleasant time.

C. H. Lenhart, of the Fulton Furniture Co., who has been spending a few days in New York, has returned.

The funeral of Miss Helen Dutcher, who died recently, was held at the Free Methodist Church Thursday and was very largely attended. Rev. D. N. F. Blakeney of Pine Hill officiated, assisted by Rev. R. C. Smith. The pall bearers were six young ladies and six gentlemen, all about the same age of the deceased. They were Miss Clementine Lafferty, Miss Flossie Peck, Miss Orpha Krone, Miss Maud Hinkley, Miss Essie Hilliker, Miss G. Smith. The young men were Benj. Gulnick, Joseph Yerry, John Miller, Gilbert Redmond, George Hughes and Charles Paterson. The young ladies carried the flowers, which were very beautiful. The service was very impressive.

Several surveyors of the board of water supply of New York city have engaged board in this place and will begin work Monday.

F. S. Osterhout is completing finishing up his store preparatory to opening it up for business in the spring.

Mr. H. H. Jones has been called to Windham to see her mother, who is ill.

MT. TREMPER.

Mt. Tremper, Feb. 4.—What might have proved a very serious accident happened on Sunday afternoon. As N. D. Wilber and the Misses Gertrude Sylvart and Freida Randall were leaving the church Mr. Wilber's horse became frightened at something and reared the wagon upsetting and throwing them all out on the church ground. Both Miss Sylvart and Miss Randall escaped with slight bruises but Mr. Wilber was rendered unconscious, as he fell on his face, injuring it very badly. Dr. Gross was called and after a while Mr. Wilber was taken to his home at Lake Hill by auto. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

A skimmington was given to William Meister and bride on Monday evening. Congratulations are extended to them.

A number are still ill with the grip and colds.

The play "Farm Folks" will be given at the church hall on Friday evening, the 11th.

Miss Josephine Lockwood called on Mrs. J. S. Randall Tuesday.

Miss Gertrude Sylvart spent Tuesday at Mrs. Wilber's at Lake Hill.

Benj. Cook and son, Benj. Cook, Jr., of Allgerville, visited relatives here this week.

WOODLAND.

Woodland, Feb. 4.—Miss Helen Miller of Woodland, who is attending school at Kingston, entertained a number of her school friends from Kingston at her home in Woodland over Sunday.

Edward Hallenbeck and son, Louis, have been erecting a new ice house, and they filled the same last week with very fine ice from E. B. Miller's pond.

E. B. Miller of Woodland made a business trip to Kingston on Monday.

Thomas Roberts and wife are keeping house in Woodland.

Clement Botchford of New York city visited his mother, Mrs. H. J. Botchford, over Sunday.

John Lord is very busy getting out lumber for W. O. Schwarzwald of Chichester.

Louis Hallenbeck is very busy getting out telephone poles for the New York Telephone Company.

About four inches of snow fell in this place on Tuesday.

Binnewater Ice Harvest.

The Binnewater Lake Ice Company will begin cutting ice from Binnewater Lake on Saturday morning, and the work of filling the house will be resumed on Sunday.

During the cold weather in early January, the company cut ice and began filling its house in this city, but the January thaw compelled operations to be discontinued. On account of the uncertainty of the weather, it will be necessary to push the work until the house is filled.

A Highland Falls Mystery.

Highland Falls has its weekly mystery, this time the appearance of a man in convict's clothing creating a stir.

WHAT TO EAT EASILY SOLVED AT Shader's Saturday Sale!

There is scarcely a household allowance so liberal that the good housewife does not find it necessary often to debate as to what may be considered extravagant. This problem is even more difficult when table expenses must be kept down "as low as possible." How familiar that term, "as low as possible," sounds, and yet how easy it is to solve the problem if this market and its choice, fresh stocks are summoned to aid. Why not try it Saturday during our popular week end sale?

Mr. Addis Goes to Syracuse.

W. L. Addis, formerly manager of the L. B. Van Wagon Company, left town with his family this morning for Syracuse, where he will take charge of a big store on South Salina street. Shortly after severing connections with the Van Wagon Company, Mr. Addis became affiliated with Frank Porman, of the Up-to-Date Company and the two owners of the new Syracuse store. This will be another link in the chain of stores that this company is now operating. The W. L. Addis Company, as the new establishment is called, will cater to the best of Syracuse's society and will deal in ladies' fine clothing. Andre Bouton, the French milliner, formerly occupied the store where Mr. Addis is situated and the building is being improved throughout, with a new elevator. Cross-lain walnut fixtures and new front.

LECTURE ON INSECTS.

Manager Hook Instructs and Entertain High School Pupils.

Manager W. H. Hook of the Farm Bureau gave an instructive illustrated lecture on insects before about 200 students at the high school Thursday afternoon after the close of school. On account of the bright sunlight in the auditorium, the audience was obliged to occupy seats on the stage "behind the scenes," the curtain being lowered to bar the extreme sunlight. The biology and agricultural classes attended the lecture which they found very interesting because of the diversion from dry text books.

Mr. Hook will deliver other addresses to the farming and biological classes in the future, including a corn judging demonstration. Saturday he will give a lecture at Cottekill on the same line as the high school talk.

Life and Character Reading

FEBRUARY 4

This horoscope shows a person who is apt to exaggerate all the events of life.

There needs to be great self-confidence and less fear. The will to do should be cultivated by daily concentration of the purpose.

While the nature is cheerful and affectionate there are times when the slightest mistake throws the nature into gloom and confusion of thought.

This may be overcome, however, and the person should dwell on the right side of things, refuse to give up to what seems against him and rise to the full powers which are bestowed upon him by Saturn.

Nurses and doctors will do well to use The Freeman Want Ads for the coming two weeks.

FATAL EXPLOSION AT BREWSTER PLANT

Harvey Schoonmaker of Tillson Killed While at Work Alone in the Priming House at Noon Today.

Harvey Schoonmaker of Tillson was killed in an explosion at the plant of the Brewster Powder Company at Port Ewen about noon today. From what could be learned Schoonmaker was at work in what is known as the priming house, where the cartridges are loaded. He was alone at the time and it is presumed that he dropped some of the cartridges and they exploded. His body was badly torn, especially about the head. The roof of the building was wrecked and the windows smashed. As each of the company's buildings set alone by themselves the damage was confined to the building in which Schoonmaker was employed. Dr. George W. Ross was summoned but found the man beyond medical aid. Coroner E. A. Kelly took charge of the remains. Mr. Schoonmaker is survived by his mother and one sister, Mrs. George Proper, of Port Ewen.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 4.—After a little irregularity at the start the stock market this morning developed strength, many issues making substantial gains. Most interest was centered in the war order stocks.

Crucible Steel moved up 2 1/2 to 82 1/2. Industrial Alcohol 1 1/2 to 157 1/2. Distillers Securities 1 1/2 to 48. Steel Common rose 3/4 to 93 1/2 and fractional gains were made in Anaconda and American Smelting. Goodrich Rubber recovered its dividend of 1 per cent, which it sold at 106 1/2.

In the late forenoon the market became unsettled and many issues were in free supply at moderate concessions. Stocks that had made gains of from one to four points lost all their improvement. Steel Common after selling at 84 1/2 dropped to 82 1/2. The rest of the list moved in about the same way.

A steadier tone was in evidence in the late afternoon and many issues rallied substantially from their early low levels. Crucible Steel was the most prominent, rising from 80 1/2 to 83 1/2. Industrial Alcohol rallied 2 points to 154 1/2. Distillers one point to 48. Steel Common after selling at 82 1/2, rose to 83 1/2, but again became heavy and receded to 82.

The market closed irregular. The standard issues and many specialties were again under pressure. Distillers securities was active and strong, advancing to 50 1/2. The highest this year. Other stocks yielded in the late trading which was without special feature. Government bonds unchanged; others strong.

SOCIETY NOTES

The Delta Alpha Society will meet on Monday evening with Miss Ethel Van Aken, No. 764 Broadway. The letter will be F.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Huber of 75 German street celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at home today. As Mr. and Mrs. Huber are highly respected, they received hearty congratulations from their many friends.

D. A. R. to Present Miss Deyo.

There was a largely attended meeting of Willetts Chapter, D. A. R., at the Chapter House on Thursday afternoon, and in addition to listening to a pleasing program the chapter decided to bring Miss Ruth Deyo, the now famous pianist, who is a daughter of Ulster county, to Kingston in April. The meeting was presided over by the Regent, Mrs. Philip Elting, and among other matters of routine business, two new members were accepted, Miss Beulah Smith and Mrs. A. M. Slauson. It was decided to omit the new customary social afternoon on the third Thursday in February, and to hold the same on the following Tuesday, February 22. At that time, Mrs. A. P. Clearwater and Mrs. Dimmock will be pleased to see all members of the chapter at the Chapter House for an afternoon of sociability. The chief business of the afternoon, was the making of arrangements for the coming of Miss Ruth Deyo, concert pianist, who will appear at the Y. M. C. A. Hall on April 4th, for the benefit of the chapter. Miss Deyo, who is now an artist who has won the most favorable of musical criticism for her performances in the great musical centers of Europe as well as in this country, is well known to many Kingston people, as her home when a little girl was in West Paltz and Poughkeepsie. It is the good fortune of Willetts Chapter to introduce this talented young artist to her own people here in Kingston, and judging from the number of persons who have from time to time expressed a sincere desire to hear Miss Deyo, who this year plays a return engagement with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Willetts Chapter should have no difficulty in filling the auditorium for this concert they are planning. The concert will be in charge of the music and social committee, Mrs. Van Buren and Mrs. Frey, chairmen, respectively. The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Herman Toosa and Mrs. F. E. Wieber. These present were first delighted with "Hail, Solo," "Adoration," by Borowski, played most admirably by Miss Catherine Van Buren. To the enthusiastic encore, she responded by playing a charming "Slumber Song." She was accompanied by Mrs. A. Van Buren. Then followed a group of tenor solos sung by Mr. La Tour, who gave great pleasure by the artistic and expressive manner in which he sang, "For You Alone," by Gartner; "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak; "Some Where a Voice is Calling," by Alfred P. Tate and "Who?" by John Barnes Wells. W. W. Freidenbergh was the accompanist.

This enjoyable part of the program was followed by thoroughly interesting account of the San Francisco Exposition, given informally by Mrs. Jessie G. Preston, who spent several weeks at the exposition. The talk was further made realistic by a number of fine illustrations which Mrs. Preston had with her. Starting at the gateway in the wall of living green which enclosed the vast area, Mrs. Preston vividly described the "Fountain of Energy," the "Tower of Jewels," the "Column of Progress," the "Rising Sun," the "Setting Sun," the "Court of Abundance," the "State Buildings," the marvelous "Flamingo Building," and many other points of special interest or beauty. The afternoon was brought to a close with the serving of afternoon tea, by Mrs. John Broadhead and Mrs. Weed, who were the hostesses.

Cheap Material for Making Sugar.

Sap of the nipa palm is the cheapest raw material in the world for making sugar and alcohol.

The Rhinoceros.

A rhinoceros rolls in the mud because it has to get between the folds of its skin and worry it. If it gets its body covered with mud they are unable to reach the skin.

Laundry Marks in Europe.

Laundry marks vary greatly in Europe. Those used in Britain consist of certain small letters or figures stitched in red thread. Not all continental laundries are so considerate. In some parts of France linen is defaced by having the whole name and address of the laundry stamped upon it and an additional geometrical design to indicate the owner.

In Bavaria every piece has a number stamped on in large characters. In other parts of Germany a small cotton label is attached by means of a waterproof (hot) adhesive. In Bulgaria each laundry has a large number of stamps engraved with designs, and in Russia the laundries mark linen with threads worked in arrow shapes.

In some Russian towns the police periodically issue regulations for laundries, while in Odessa books of marks are furnished annually to the laundry proprietors, and these marks and no others may be used. By this system criminals and revolutionary agitators are often traced.—London Mail.

Men Who Wear Feathers.

Among the strange tribes of men about whom little is known are the Chamaccos of the region about the upper Paraguay river.

Although the Chamaccos wear but little clothing, they excel in the art of making personal adornments from the feathers of birds. Their country abounds with birds of the most beautiful plumage, including parrots, toucans and trogons, whose feathers are dazzling in color; these with gray plumes, musk ducks of a glossy black color, egret with feathers of pure white and spoonbills of a delicate pink.

All this wealth of color and graceful plumage is combined by the Chamaccos in a most artistic manner. Some of these savages walk their forest glades in colors more brilliant, if less ample, than any woman's dress—London Mail.

His Elaborate Efforts.

"One should beware of beginning his speech in too loud a voice," said Grout. "If you start off with a yell, when the time comes to roar denunciation or shout hosannas you will have no wind left with which to be emphatic. I once knew a man whose wife exhibited more than 300 love letters in court, which he had written her during a brief courtship of eleven weeks. He often wrote her six or more in one day, and his shortest epistle contained four pages. And yet before they had been married two months he had slipped her jaw so far around that when she wanted to talk into the telephone she had to back up to it. His excuse was that he had exhausted his affection in the course of the correspondence."—Kansas City Star.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVES
PLAY OUT OF TOWN

Fresh from a long string of victories, the Kingston high school basketball team will try their luck on an unfamiliar court tonight when they journey inland to Middletown. This is the first game out of town for the home lads and they will have to play their best to nose out the Middletowners, who are not feeling over-happy toward the visitors and who began since the two football defeats in the fall. Basketball is one of the most popular sports in the lively inland city and the high school of that place has had it in its curriculum for many years. As a result of this long experience and on account of the Middle-town team can be relied upon to turn out a good team, one that will make the local lads hustle to bring back the bacon.

A recent practice game with the Kingston Five has helped to show the weak points in the team and they have remedied these shortcomings. A strong factor in the victories secured to date is the fact that all the games have been staged in the high school gymnasium, which is a barrier to long shots, and pass work is necessary. Teams coming here have tried time and again to net counts through long tries for the cage but have failed on account of the girls across the gym. Despite the fact that this has helped to win games for the locals there is no doubt that a team has been shaped which is doing the high school justice and keeping the colors of the school floating above the rest of the athletic world. Eight men including Coach Shumaker, will take the trip, leaving here Friday night and returning Saturday.

An invasion of Dutchess county will occur Saturday afternoon, the G. A. A. five of Kingston high school crossing the Hudson to Rhinebeck, where they will pull hard ribbons with the girls of that peaceful little hamlet. The girls' team of the high school is also unbeaten and it will be a mighty good aggregation that tramples their colors in the dust. They have developed a smoothly running machine with no flaws in it and their pass work and clever shooting have won games both on the home court and on foreign territory. The Rhinebeck clan is composed of real country maidens who are accustomed to hard work, whether it be on the farm or on basketball courts and a good game is expected.

Midgets Play Rhinebeck Saturday. At 2:30 in the local high school gym, the Midgets will play their first interscholastic game for the championship of this section of the state Saturday. The Rhinebeck Midgets will be the opposing force and a swift game is anticipated. Admission, 10 cents.

Holy Cross Beat Acme.

In a game that was fast but one-sided the Acme Five were defeated by the Holy Cross team by a score of 26 to 11. The first half was fast and well played by both teams. In the second half the Holy Cross ran away from their opponents. Out of six fouls called on the Acme, the Holy Cross could not call one; while out of seven chances, the Acme got three. The score:

Holy Cross.	F.	T.
Rourke, Jr.	1	0
Newman, Jr.	2	0
J. Sills, Jr.	3	0

MENKE'S DAILY
SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Feb. 4.—The Eastern wrestling skeptics asked to be shown, whereupon Joe Stecher, the western wonder displayed his wares, and convinced everyone in Gotham, town that he is one of the greatest grapplers since the days when Frank Gotch was in his prime.

Stecher came to New York for his bout with Mort Henderson, "The Masked Marvel," touted as a whirlwind on the mat. Gotham didn't believe it but it does now? The way in which Stecher toyed with Henderson was a revelation.

Oddly enough, Stecher never was tutored by a professional wrestler. Some reports have it that "Farmer" Burns introduced him to the rudiments of the game. These are erroneous. Stecher's only instructor has been his older brother, Anton, who knows only a little more about the wrestling game than did Joe when the boys began grappling back in their home town in Dodge, Neb.

Learns Without Teacher.

Five years ago the Stecher boys became interested in wrestling while attending the Y. M. C. A. in Fremont, Neb. When they returned to the farm they continued grappling in their old moments. No one told them anything about the tricks in the wrestling game. Whenever they could find the time to do so, they would go to some wrestling match in which professionals were involved. They would watch the tricks uncovered by the "pros" and then go home and try them out on each other.

Out in Dodge they idolize Joe—and well they should. Not only has Joe risen to heights that should make Dodge proud that it produced him, but incidentally, Joe made some of the Dodge boys rather wealthy.

About three years ago Joe blossomed out in public as a wrestler. He showed up wonderfully well among the amateurs. He "pinned" every man whom he tackled. That made the citizens of Dodge quite boastful about Joe and his ability. Those boasts seeped into the outside world, whereupon several different bunches of gamblers in Omaha decided to "clean up" Dodge and the immediate vicinity.

Wins Bets For Friends.

When Stecher won with ease all of his early matches, the town of Dodge issued a deft to the effect that Stecher could meet anyone in the county, catch-as-catch-can style. That was the summons for the gamblers. They sent a few emissaries down Dodge way who boasted So-and-So who was a great wrestler. The Dodge folks grabbed at the bait.

"He may be good—but he's not as good as Stecher," announced Dodge in one voice.

Whereupon, a match was made, the gamblers brought on a "ringer" and coaxed the Dodge folks to bet on Stecher. It wasn't hard to coax those fellows; they were only too willing to back Stecher to the limit of their bankrolls. And Stecher won.

Beats Many Ringers.

Time and again the gamblers brought other famous wrestlers to Dodge and the vicinity, under assumed names, and matched them against Stecher. On each and every occasion the gamblers plunged recklessly, feeling sure that this was the time that Stecher would be beaten. But Stecher wasn't. He beat every man the gamblers pitted against him, and the Dodge boys who pyramided their bets on him ran a few dollars into the thousands.

When Stecher made his early appearance in Omaha there was a certain clique that scoffed at him. It had heard about "wonders" before; it wasn't going to be "taken in" again. But Stecher kept on wrestling, kept on doing his best at all times, kept on winning and very soon Omaha and all the west awakened to the fact that it had produced a grappler who knows no peer at the catch-as-catch style.

Is Physical Marvel.

Stecher, who is of Bohemian parentage, is 6 feet tall, weighs 200 pounds, and has a wonderful physical development. Stecher's legs and arms are impressive almost to the point of being uncanny. His arms are long and sinewy and his legs show muscular development beyond anything ever seen in New York. Stecher has the most powerful pair of legs ever owned by any wrestler, and it is largely because of this that he has been so successful.

The scissors hold, long regarded as one of the most effective on the mat, has been perfected to the highest point by Stecher. He is as fast as a streak of lightning on the mat and when once he secures his scissors hold it is only a matter of seconds before he has pinned his opponent's shoulders to the mat.

Stecher broke in upon New York after it had experienced three solid months of wrestling. That tournament enabled the fans to "get a line" on real wrestlers—and ordinary wrestlers. And those who saw every one of the international grapplers and then saw Stecher are unanimous in declaring: "Stecher is the greatest of them all."

Revival Activities.

A prayer meeting for women is being held this afternoon by Mrs. T. H. Baragwanath in the Fair Street Reformed Church.

A meeting for children was opened at 3:30 o'clock by Mr. Tuller in the St. James M. E. Church. Mr. Tuller's question is: "At What Age Does One Cease Being a Child?" The age limit for this service is stated to be from one to 100 years.

Optimistic Thought.

Happy the man who calling to great and spirit humble.

There's one fashion that never changes—the refreshing, wholesome, youthful, spirited fashion of "rolling your own" for a lively smoke with good old "Bull" Durham.

In no other way can you get a cigarette so fresh and fragrant, so full of vigor, energy and action. The man who "rolls his own" with "Bull" Durham has the taste of a connoisseur.

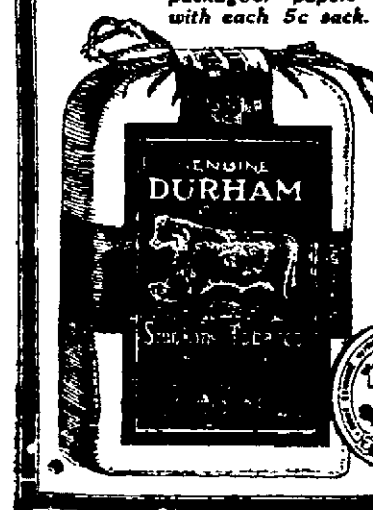

GENUINE

"BULL" DURHAM
SMOKING TOBACCO

The wonderful mildness of "Bull" Durham sets it apart from all other tobaccos, and its unique mellow-sweet flavor gives distinctive enjoyment to a cigarette.

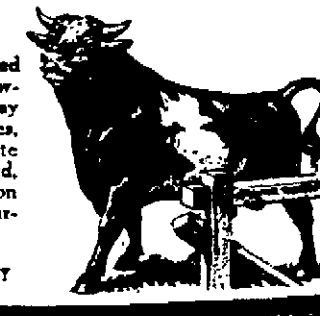

"Bull" Durham is made of "bright" Virginia-North Carolina leaf—the choicest that grows. It is smooth, rich, most satisfying—and mild.

Start "rolling your own" with "Bull" Durham now, and you'll put yourself on the one right road to genuine smoking satisfaction.

FREE

An Illustrated Booklet, showing correct way to "Roll Your Own" Cigarettes, and a package of cigarette papers, will both be mailed, free, to any address in U. S. on request. Address "Bull" Durham, Durham, N. C.
